SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers hit the Ashau Special Forces camp which fell to North Vietnamese forces last week, a military spokesman announced today.

See Deeper Change for Catholics

Excommunication Lifting Is Cited

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul's mixed marriage changes went deeper than many experts anticipated, with the lifting of Catholics who married outside their church.

The experts were still sorting out some of the ramifications involved in the instruction "Matrimonii Sacramentum" — the sacrament of matrimony, a seven-point document changing Catholicism's laws.

Both Must Promise

Henceforth it will be the Roman Catholic man or wife, not the non-Catholic, who must promise to raise children as Catholics. The non-Catholic will be asked only to respect the duty that his or her Catholic spouse has taken on.

Henceforth a Protestant minister, a Jewish rabbi or any other clergyman will be able to stand up in a Catholic church, after a member of his faith has joined in marriage with a Catholic, and give his own homily about their new marriage.

The relatives and friends on each side will be able to pray in common for the newlyweds.

Henceforth the mixed marriage can take place with a nuptial Mass, sermon and nuptial blessing just like an all-Catholic wedding. This is a far cry from recent decades when mixed marriages used to be solemnized privately in the church rectory next door without Mass or blessing.

The most startling change for many experts here was the lifting of excommunication.

Validity Stressed

Catholicism will still consider that only a marriage performed before a Roman Catholic priest is a valid marriage.

But Catholics who may one day exchange wedding vows outside their church, and all who have already done so, no longer incur the cutting off from sacramental life that excommunication means.

Theologians said each case can have many theological and canonical aspects of its own.

They said, however, that this is how the basic procedure will apply.

The Catholic involved in what his church considers an illicit mixed marriage outside the church will still be illicitly married, although no longer cut off from the life of his church.

Cites Steps

— Such a Catholic must see a priest, go to confession and thereby make himself once again eligible for receiving other sacraments like communion and the sacrament of the dying.

— He or she must also inquire about what is to be done to regularize his or her marriage. Some cases will be simple, others complex. But if the Catholic follows these steps, both his personal spiritual status and his married life will be in full accord with the principles of his religion.

— If the Catholic is unwilling the giant eight-engine bombers from Guam was ordered after intelligence indicated that all the Americans originally in the camp now are accounted for and the Vietnamese support troops who survived a regimental assault had been exterminated.

Marines Save Troops

The northern regulars hit the camp from all sides and smothered it March 10. Only a tremendous effort by Marine and Air Force helicopter units saved a majority of the men from annihilation.

The Communist troops from the north spent the next several days building new fortifications which have been blasted several times by American air strikes.

The B52s put the final crunch on the area. There was no evaluation of results and an Air Force officer said it was reasonable to presume the enemy forces had withdrawn, probably across the border into Laos.

Slight Ground Contact

Ground action against the Viet Cong produced only slight contact today. The 25th Division probing about 30 miles southwest of Saigon closed out Operation Honolulu in which U. S. troops chased the Communists out of an old stronghold, killed 49 and captured 13 Viet Cong.

A company of U. S. Marines got into a firefight during the night at Binh Nam, eight miles south of Da Nang where the Viet Cong have laid many ambushes in the past. The Leathernecks suffered moderate casualties from heavy mortar fire and lost a helicopter called in to fly the wounded out.

Cong Troops Withdraw

Two more companies of Marines came to the rescue and superior fire power forced the Viet Cong to withdraw.

The aerial attack took precedence Friday both in South and North Viet Nam. One of the heaviest assaults on fortified Viet Cong positions about 55 miles northwest of Nha Trang was prompted by information found on the body of an enemy company commander several days ago.

In the north, the Air Force

Mino Will Assign Defense Counsel In Perjury Case

A former Town of Ulster resident charged with first degree perjury arising out of her appearance as a witness before the grand jury, asked County Judge Raymond J. Mino to assign defense counsel after an attorney already assigned had asked to be relieved because of "non-cooperation" of the defendant.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rossiello of Brooklyn has been remanded to jail in lieu of bail to answer to a charge of perjury.

During the afternoon session of County Court Friday, Charles Saccomano who had been assigned as defense counsel, asked that Mrs. Rossiello be brought into court since he desired to make an application in court.

Would Not Cooperate

When Mrs. Rossiello appeared Saccomano asked that he be relieved of the assignment. He told Judge Mino he had visited his client several times in jail and had been unable to gain her cooperation. He said she declined to discuss the case and he felt he would be unable to continue to defend her as she was unwilling to discuss the matter.

In view of her unwillingness to cooperate he said he felt it was useless to continue as her attorney and asked Judge Mino to relieve him of the assignment.

Judge Mino in view of the situation granted the application, and said he would assign other counsel. Mrs. Rossiello appeared.

Viet Military Ponders Demands of Buddhists

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's military government met for three hours to discuss the situation caused by the ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Thi and Buddhist demands for social and political reforms, informants said today. The informants said the ruling generals made no formal decision at the meeting Friday on whether to move against the Buddhists. Buddhist meetings in Saigon and elsewhere so far have been orderly and there was no clear indication whether any trouble would develop.

Spring Visits Area Early; Tops Record

It might as well be spring even though the season's official bow is still two days off. Friday temperatures in Kingston and Ulster County broke all existing records for March 18 when they soared into the high 60s. Kingston City Engineers Office reported an official 68 at 3:30 p. m. Friday afternoon, a mark that soared one degree over the old record 67 established 21 years ago in 1945.

Elsewhere spring paid an advance visit to other New York State areas and greeted some sections with record-breaking 70-plus temperatures for the day. Rochester had 74, Watertown and Elmira 72 and Buffalo and Syracuse 71, all of which soared above old records, some dating back to 1903. New York City had its warmest day since October; reported 65 degrees.

Locally, residents took advantage of the balmy weather in a variety of ways. Kingston High School barriers were observed joggling along uptown streets in the area of the school, getting in some of the earliest training in memory. Brush fires broke out in five sections of the county, a sure sign of spring, and even the bomb scares which were reported here and there gave indications that spring fever was in the air.

Although pussy willows sprouted earlier in the month, many residents reported sighting their first bees yesterday and birds upped their nest building activities. When schools released students for the day, more than one youngster went home to don shorts for the first time in months. A Woodstock woman reported seeing a group of some 20 shorts clad boys and girls participating in a snowball fight. Scattered piles of snow remained throughout the area in spite of a hot sun.

As light pre-spring rain fell early this morning, it was all over. Yet, for most people's purposes, spring is already here and not just around the corner.

Gunman Is Slain By Police After Hours of Terror

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Police said a fleeing gunman's chance selection of a hiding place led to four hours of terror for the Marvin Keeler family, and death for the gunman, Friday night.

Police said they fatally shot Harvey LeRoy Baker, 33, after he held three members of the Keeler family hostage in their home, led officers on a wild chase through downtown Eugene and wounded a passerby.

Baker, also known as David LeRoy Latham, died in Sacred Heart Hospital of head wounds. Police said identification papers found on the man showed both Modesto, Calif., and Salem, Ore., as home towns.

Spectator Is Shot

The wounded passerby, Milton Seligman, 29, Eugene, was shot just above the collar bone and was reported progressing satisfactorily.

The wild spree started late in the afternoon when a gunman attempted to hold up the One O'Clock Market. A police officer accosted the fleeing man, and shots were exchanged.

The man ducked into the Keeler home. Police, armed with shotguns and machine guns, surrounded the house.

The robber allowed Keeler to take their 18-month-old child outside, but held the other three

Space Duo Land at Cape To Start Probe of Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 8 astronauts flew back to their launching base today to help experts determine why their space flight suddenly turned from triumph to near tragedy.

Neil Armstrong and David Scott were in good spirits as they landed here after a jet flight from Hawaii. They bounced down the plane steps and waved at a crowd of about 200 persons.

Magnificent Ride

"We had a magnificent flight the first seven hours," Armstrong told the group, adding that he and Scott were disappointed they were unable to complete their mission after executing man's first linkup with another satellite.

"It was a magnificent launch — without a doubt the best there's ever been," Armstrong told Lt. Col. John G. Albert, Gemini launch director for the Air Force.

They declined to discuss details of their wild ride with newsmen.

Scott said they were "looking forward" to reviewing the flight that ended so swiftly Wednesday night after Gemini 8 and the Agena, to which it was hooked up, suddenly began to tumble crazily through the sky.

Landed 7:58

The C135 jet transport landed here at 7:58 a.m. (EST) after an eight and one-half hour flight from Hawaii.

At Cape Kennedy, the astronauts will huddle with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials for three days in an effort to solve the mystery of the harrowing ride that caused the first emergency landing in the U.S. man in space program.

Armstrong and Scott blasted off from Cape Kennedy at 11:41 a.m. Wednesday and later linked up with an Agena satellite in an historic space feat. But half an hour after linking the joined vehicles were tumbling badly and command pilot Armstrong fought for 30 minutes to free Gemini 8 from the Agena and then to control it.

About 200 newsmen, NASA and Air Force officials and Cape workers greeted the returning astronauts. The public was not permitted on this restricted base.

A large banner on the greeting stand read: "Welcome back Neil, Dave."

The astronauts, Armstrong

first, stepped from the plane at 8:05 a.m. They waved and walked to the official party that greeted them. They shook hands all around, while photographers darted around them.

Rift Widening In China Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's China hearings are escalating into a tug of war between members of the Foreign Relations Committee over whether experts called to testify are presenting a balanced picture.

Most of the witnesses so far have been professors who have urged greater efforts by the United States to open doors of communication with the Communist Chinese government.

Need More Views

This prompted Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, the committee's ranking Republican, to suggest that additional witnesses were needed to develop "a different point of view."

The committee agreed to hear some of those he suggested, including one of the GOP's top Asian experts, former Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota.

When Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the leading Senate critic of administration policies in Southeast Asia, saw the names of Hickenlooper's witnesses, he said, "I don't think that list gives a balanced point of view."

He recalled he too had suggested some witnesses — including economist J. Kenneth Galbraith, who served as ambassador to India under President John F. Kennedy.

Studying Report

Galbraith, Morse said, had been to Viet Nam on a mission for Kennedy and the late president was studying his report just before he was assassinated in November 1963.

Committee chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he was "perfectly willing" to consider more witnesses if that was the committee's wish but he suggested the matter be discussed at a closed hearing.

Morse said he would press at the committee's next executive session to have Galbraith called as a witness on the Southeast Asian situation.

The three experts the committee heard Friday — retired Brig. Gen. Samuel B. Griffith II, Prof. Morton Halperin of Harvard and Prof. Alexander Eckstein of the University of Michigan — called for greater U.S. communication with Peking.

Reds Not Eager

All indicated they felt the Chinese were not eager to become involved in a major war in Southeast Asia but might have to enter the Viet Nam conflict if it escalates to the point of endangering the Communist regime.

"The more we escalate," Eckstein said, "the greater the risks of a response." But he said it was very difficult to visualize all-out war between the United States and China.

Griffith and Halperin both supported in general the Johnson administration's Viet Nam policies, but both called for an end to U.S. opposition to Red Chinese membership in the United Nations.

Griffith, who has served in China and has made a study of the country and its military potential, doesn't see China as a particular ferocious dragon.

Termed Paper Tiger

He said its big army is "a potent regional military instrument," but aside from that will be a "paper tiger" for a decade or two due to modern deficiencies, including transport.

"The Chinese," he said "cannot yet project conventional power beyond immediately peripheral areas."

April 15 Is Filing Deadline For School Board Petitions

Friday, April 15 is the deadline for filing nominating petitions for potential candidates seeking to fill the three vacancies on the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated. The annual election is slated for Tuesday, May 3.

Expiring this year are the terms of Mrs. Edith Case Murphy and Bernard Singer. Both told The Freeman they would not seek reelection to a new five-year term. The voters also will elect a trustee to fill out one year of the unexpired term of Francis Stern-Montagny, who resigned five months ago after moving outside the school district.

Potential candidates for membership on the Board of Education must file nominating petitions before Wednesday, April 13 at 5 p. m.

Candidates for board membership must submit petitions signed by at least 100 persons who are qualified to vote at the school election in May, in accordance with the Education Law.

Any petition signed by an insufficient number of voters, or petitions which are not filed on time, must be refused by the clerk of the board, in the office of the Superintendent of Schools, 67 Wall Street.

After nominating petitions are filed, the clerk of the board will have official ballots printed listing the name of each candidate properly nominated by petition. The names will be arranged alphabetically on the ballot according to their surname.

The ballot will contain blank spaces so that voters may write in the name of candidates who are not nominated by petition.

A Board of Registration, announced at the last meeting of the school district board, will sit at the Municipal Auditorium, Broadway, on Friday, April 15 between 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. to register voters who intend to participate in the May 3 election.

EARL WARREN

Marks 75th Birthday This Date

Has No Thoughts About Retirement

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Earl Warren, 75 today, is not giving serious thought to stepping down as chief justice of the United States. He isn't even planning his memoirs.

But he thinks it would be a good idea — provided Congress and the people agree — for a compulsory retirement age to be set for all public officials.

Spoke With Bounce

The silvery-haired Californian, the first Westerner to head the Supreme Court, spoke with the bounce and zest of a man half his age as he chatted with reporters this week in his office.

He was looking forward to "the first birthday party I've had since I was a boy" and, noting Washington's recent spell of mild, spring-like weather, wished he could be playing baseball again.

Except that he has quit walking part of the way to work in the morning and doing setting up exercises regularly, Warren doesn't seem to be making any concessions to age.

He still gets up at the ring of an alarm clock at 6:30 a.m., puts in a six-day week at the court and emphatically rejects any consideration of leaving the bench.

Serve For Life

Barring impeachment and conviction by Congress, federal judges serve for life. They can retire at 70 at full pay if they have been on the bench 10 years.

Warren, whose annual pay is $40,000, qualifies.

Dressed informally in an olive-brown business suit, golden shirt and brown-tinted tie, Warren reflected the geniality which has been his stock in trade in a public career that began in 1919 as an assistant to the Oakland city attorney.

Though he said "I always let birthdays pass without emphasis," he was looking forward to the party tonight that will bring together five of the six children, colleagues and friends. It is being given here by his daughter, Virginia, and her husband, newsmen John Charles Daly.

Since taking the oath as chief justice Oct. 5, 1953, he was nominated by President Dwight D. Eisenhower during his third term as governor of California — Warren has headed an active court.

Segregated public schools have been flatly outlawed, the states ordered to reapportion congressional districts and their legislatures on a one-man, one-vote basis, and compulsory Bible reading and prayer recitation banned in the public schools.

TO BE REPLACED—The obsolete and inadequate Coxing Kill Bridge in the Town of Rosendale is to be replaced soon. The present span cannot be crossed by town fire equipment. Built in 1902, it is completely unsuited for modern highway use. A sharp curve at the end of a steep hill marks the approach from High Falls Park and it has been the scene of numerous crumpled fender incidents in icy weather. Ulster County Board of Supervisors approved construction of a new bridge at an estimated cost of $130,000 last week. The Rosendale Town Board had previously agreed to construct approaches for a new span. Supervisor Gerard DeFelice said that the new bridge will provide better highway facilities, more fire protection and aid in the expansion of that section of the town. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

Lorenzo Butice, obviously a man of strong faith, recently taught me a great lesson in brotherhood and understanding.

On a recent visit to remote Southern Argentina, I spent a night in the small hotel where Lorenzo and his large family eked out a living. Upon our arrival they gave us a heart warming welcome and saw to it that we had everything needed for our comfort.

In the evening after a superb dinner, I got out a sketch pad, which was my only form of communication, and made sketches of the children, of Lorenzo's wife, and of Lorenzo himself. There was much laughter, excitement and talk, none of which I understood, except I knew they were pleased. When I asked my interpreter to tell Lorenzo I was sorry that I didn't understand him, Lorenzo laughed and said, "It is not true, for when we understand from the heart we do not have to understand from the lips."

Dedication Set March 27 At Area Lutheran Church

A milestone in the history of the Redeemer Lutheran Church of New Paltz will be marked March 27 when dedication services will be held at the new church building, Route 32 South.

The building is the first unit of a threefold building program started with a fund drive in the fall of 1964. Ground was broken in September, 1965. The master site plan calls for two additional building phases—an extension of the classroom wing and the ultimate church sanctuary.

The unit under completion now consists of classroom wing and parish hall which will serve the dual purpose of fellowship hall and chapel. Architects are William Gindele and Jay Johnson of Poughkeepsie and builders are Schneider Construction Company of New Paltz.

Formed 16 Years Ago
In the fall of 1950, Lutherans who attended churches in Highland or Poughkeepsie conceived the idea of forming a new church in the area between New Paltz and Highland. Meetings were begun with those interested and the pastor of the Poughkeepsie church. The group received official recognition from the Mission Council of the New York Synod of the Lutheran Church.

The first meetings were held Sunday nights in the Highland American Legion building. The Princeton Evangelistic Fellowship, during the fall and winter period, sends out teams of three and four students for weekends of ministry in churches within reasonable driving distance from the seminary. Climaxing the year's work of visitation, the fellowship has sponsored each year two conferences on the seminary campus for senior highs of the churches visited during previous years. Over 300 youth are in attendance at each conference.

For the past two years, the senior youth fellowship of the local church has attended one of the conferences, and is planning to do so again this year, either on April 16 or 30. The officers of the senior group are: Marsha Suenram, president; Mary McCullough, vice president; Diane Van Aken, secretary; Larry Flowers, treasurer; Timothy Suenram, chaplain; and their adult advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Harv' Flowers.

In the junior youth fellowship the officers are: Claudette Fallorn, president; Darlene Van Kleeck, vice president; Jeanne Atwood, secretary; Becky Hawes, treasurer; Patricia Herdman, refreshment chairman; and Dr. and Mrs. William E. Askue adult advisors.

PACK OF TAX TROUBLE

You could build a pretty good argument on the premise that the law often creates more crime than it prevents, especially when it seeks to forbid or restrict or too vigorously milk the "congenial vices" that spring from human nature itself.

Prohibition is the classic example, and the United States is still suffering from the depredations of the hoodlum empires which came into being because of the refusal of millions to abide by this law, no matter how nobly conceived it may have been.

New York's current troubles with its cigarette tax law read like news stories out of old Chicago—trucks hauling in loads of contraband cigarettes, "speakeasy" outlets in gas stations, barber shops, laundries, etc., the Mafia muscling in on independent bootleggers, cries for stiffer enforcement of the law.

A year ago New York City doubled its cigarette tax. Added to the state tax, the total is 14 cents, the highest in the country, and the price of cigarettes (40 to 45 cents a pack) is so far above that of surrounding states that ordinary citizens as well as the fast-buck boys are finding it worth their while to fill up their car trunks across the state line.

On paper, the financially straitened city should be reaping twice as much in cigarette taxes as it did before. Instead, the city and state together will lose an estimated $30 to $50 million this fiscal year. Any increase in the number of tax law enforcers—the state commissioner wants them doubled from 23 to 45—would be a further loss.

Legitimate vendors, too, are said to be losing business to the tune of $11.5 million a month. That, of course, translates into smaller income tax receipts for the city and state.

All of these consequences should have been obvious to the lawmakers.

The outlandish tax is not only failing of its purpose, it has not only opened up another field for organized crime, but it has encouraged a popular disrespect for the law which could work mischievous effects on the whole fabric of society.

Even if the tax does eventually raise revenue, its ultimate cost in this latter respect may be incalculable.

POOR DIDN'T RESPOND

One attractive idea seems to have gone kerflop. The anti-poverty program hoped to enlist the active participation of the poor. The view was that no one who has not been poor himself really knows about poverty. Thus it was planned to have the boards in charge of the local programs contain members elected by the poor themselves.

The idea deserved a better outcome. Despite all efforts to interest them, the poor did not turn out to vote. In Cleveland, for example, only 4.2 per cent of those eligible went to the polls. Similarly disappointing results were encountered in Kansas City, Los Angeles and Chester, Pa.

The publicity may have been inadequate. Local drugstores, groceries, quick restaurants and other places frequented by the poor might have been utilized more than they were as focal points for getting the idea across. But in any case the results were so disappointing that Sargent Shriver, the anti-poverty chief, was moved to tell a congressional subcommittee, "I don't believe we received our money's worth." He said that no more money would be spent on such elections.

This does not mean that the poor will not henceforth be consulted. The aim now will be to reach them by an appointive process, and perhaps other methods of selection. Eventually it may be possible to make some use of elections. Let us hope so. For at base, the idea of giving the poor themselves a chance to help guide the anti-poverty program is sound.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, ever the pessimist, is now convinced that Red China's leaders "expect to be at war with the United States within a year."

An armed conflict between the Free World and the Communist is of course, always a calculated risk. It has been a grim possibility since Lenin and his Bolsheviks seized power in Russia nearly 50 years ago.

Nevertheless, before predicting doom, Senator Fulbright and President Johnson's other critics—those who genuinely want peace with honor in Viet Nam not a victory of the Communist Viet Cong—would do well to take another look at Red China's declining political fortunes.

Only six months ago, it seemed as though Mao Tse-tung's revolutionary brinkmanship was the wave of the future in most undeveloped nations. The three pillars of his aggressive policies in Africa, Asia and Latin America were Ghana's President Nkrumah, Indonesia's President Sukarno and Cuba's Fidel Castro.

Now Ghana, having overthrown Nkrumah, has joined the anti-Communist camp. In Indonesia, Sukarno and his Communist allies are fighting for their political lives. Fidel Castro, always the opportunist, deserted Mao and is now back in the camp of Russia, China's other bitter rival.

Even more indicative of Mao's troubles is the growing opposition he is facing in North Viet Nam and North Korea. Both countries have long been regarded as Red China's satellites. Together with Albania they were Mao's strongest supporters in his ideological quarrel with Russia.

To be sure, there is no free press critical of the regimes in the Communist countries. There are no open congressional investigation committees. Yet despite their morbid addiction to secrecy the Red rulers, for internal political reasons, are frequently compelled to throw light on their malaise and reveal their quarrels.

Thus, there is for Western specialists on communism an impressive array of hard facts from which to draw these conclusions:

The Chinese Communists, by their aggressiveness and irreconcilability, especially in Viet Nam, have repelled most, if not all, of their allies in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The Russians, despite harsh attacks on President Johnson, fear an escalation of the Vietnamese war and have successfully outmaneuvered and isolated their Chinese rival.

This was even conceded in the latest editorial of Red Flag, the theoretical mouthpiece of Peking's rulers.

Red Flag bluntly warned Hanoi's leaders against Russia's designs "to sow dissension between China and North Viet Nam." It called on them "to draw a clear line" between themselves and Russia's revisionists.

This warning to Hanoi against "collaboration" with Russia followed the publication in Peking's press of an appeal to Ho Chi Minh to ignore the congress of the Russian Communist party scheduled to open in Moscow March 29.

"To participate in such a congress is to give face, aid and comfort to traitors and to the American imperialists," the Chinese warned Ho Chi Minh.

Yet so low is Peking's prestige these days that the North Vietnamese leaders decided to ignore Mao. They agreed to send a top-level delegation to Moscow to meet with the Russians.

There is, indeed, growing evidence that Moscow has succeeded in exploiting Mao's belligerence in Viet Nam to undermine Red China's prestige in the Communist world and elsewhere.

No one, of course, can predict how long the tragic war in Viet Nam will continue. But one thing is now clear: Despite the faint-hearted Cassandras in the West time is not on the side of China in Southeast Asia.

Your Dental Health

At Times Bony Outgrowths

Interfere With Dentures

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: "I've been wearing an upper partial plate for years. Now I'm told I need a full plate. But my dentist says I have a lump on the roof of my mouth that will have to be removed before I can get a new plate. I know I've had this lump for years. Can't the new plate be made to fit over it? If not, how is it removed? And is it painful?"—Mrs. G. N.

This "lump" sounds like a torus palatinus and if it is, it's not much to worry about. Some dentists call it a tumor, others say it does not come within the meaning of a tumor.

Tori are benign, bony outgrowths of unknown origin (although they seem to have a familial pattern) occurring just behind the upper front teeth and extending back along the midline of the hard palate.

They assume many shapes and sizes but only rarely do they get in the way and have to be removed. In my many years of private and hospital practice only rarely has it been necessary to remove one.

These are common growths appearing in about 25 per cent of the population, mostly in females. Maximum growth seems to occur in the first one-third of life and they don't usually continue to grow, although I have a patient of 70 whose tori have spurts of growth from time to time. Years go by without any activity, then suddenly they get obviously larger. But since they cause minimum discomfort and have no pathologic significance, their removal is not warranted.

Most tori are unnoticed by patients unless they get sore—irritations from toothbrush, crust of bread, hot soup or fever blister. When first noticed in this way, many patients panic into thinking they have cancer.

The tori that are real nuisances are the ones shaped like upside-down mushrooms. These collect food on the underside and sometimes become inflamed. However, if these areas are kept clean by vigorously rinsing with a mild mouthwash after eating, irritations will be minimal.

Sometimes tori do get in the way of dentures. To overcome this difficulty a relief is made on the palatal surface of the denture; actually a space is created between the denture and the bone so that the denture does not rub and irritate the bony area. After some weeks, when the denture settles into place and this space is lost, additional relief can be made.

The removal of tori is neither complicated nor painful, although there is a risk of accidental perforation of the hard palate. I think it's safe to say that while it would be ideal in some denture-making procedures to eliminate the torus, it's rarely necessary.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Germany. One feels a certain sympathy for the young couple. It is unfair, though, to dismiss as a "scruffy band of youths" (in the words of one dispatch) those who heckled the royal wedding procession. Scruffy or not, they recalled that for many this marriage brought agonizing memories of the Nazi occupation and of the quarter of a million Dutch who died at Nazi hands.

In a televised message after the ceremony, the new prince pleaded, "I ask you to give us a chance." He and Beatrix deserve that, for they are victims of a situation not of their making. But they will have to reconcile themselves to living with the fact that many of the Dutch will never forget those dark days of 1940-45.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — One of the nicer fringe benefits accruing to Washington legislators is the opportunity of inserting in the Congressional Record—Congress' official diary—anything their hearts desire.

Sometimes lawmakers abuse this privilege. Many observers feel that Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., may be overstepping the line by inserting a large number of favorable comments he has received on his opposition to the Viet Nam war.

In the 30 days from Feb. 1 to March 2, the Senate convened 17 times. On six of these days, Oregon's professional gadfly loaded a Senate page boy down with a voluminous pile of letters, cables and telegrams supporting his stand. All were inserted in the record.

The net result was 132 pages of miscellaneous tribute to Oregon's senior senator which few people outside of the government typesetters will ever bother to read.

The largest single dosage occurred Feb. 16, when Morse inserted a whopping 42 pages of praise. The smallest was 14 pages on Feb. 23.

Since each page in the Record—printed at government expense—costs $104, Morse's displays in one month cost U.S. taxpayers exactly $13,728. Projected at an annual rate, this could amount to more than $150,000.

A private firm company, finishing off a documentary on the White House, thought it would be nice to have a fire going in the marble fireplace in the celebrated state dining room as closing shots were made.

Moments after a fire was started, smoke filled the room. When a window was opened, it merely fanned the flames. (Evidently the fireplace had never been used since Harry Truman had the White House renovated years ago.)

After a while, President Johnson, napping upstairs, got a whiff of smoke. He sent a valet to find out what was going on. When he was told the story, the President sent the man back downstairs with this message: "The President understands. He just hopes the filming isn't being done by a British crew."

(In the War of 1812, British forces seized the White House and burned it out.)

IN THE WAVE of the first musical-chair rumors involving President Sekou Toure of Guinea and ex-President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, an old Africa hand was asked for his opinion of the developments.

"Well," he drawled, "it's kind of like the old Abbott and Costello routine on baseball, 'Who's on Shortstop?'"

"That means," interpreted a third party, "that he doesn't know much about baseball either."

ANOTHER WAG suggested that the first major problem facing Toure and Nkrumah would be whether to call their coalition "Guinea" or "Ghana."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I received another St. Anne's newspaper, this one covers The Old Stockade, with map and all. They write in part: 1658—This was the year that the Stockade was built under Peter Stuyvesant. Stuyvesant was Governor of New York, then New Netherlands, for 17 years. In the center of Kingston on Academy Green there is a twelve foot statue of him. He is portrayed as wearing a wooden leg, probably his best one, studded with silver nails, and leaning on a heavy cane or walking stick. He wears pantaloons, a long heavy cloak across his shoulders, and a small skull cap on his long flowing hair.

The girls of St. Anne have been studying local history and have visited and described these various landmarks. The girls are not native Kingstonians, and I understand their parents live in other states. They further write in their little newspaper: "Peter Stuyvesant himself owned a farm in Esopus. When his agent informed him that the settlers were having trouble with the Indians, he came from New Amsterdam with 60 soldiers, selected a place which could be easily defended and ordered a stockade to be built. He strongly recommended that the settlers build their houses within its boundaries."

So began the uptown section of Kingston. Sister Johanna wrote me a nice note and explained that they used Captain Hickey's book, "The Story of Kingston," and also visited the various places and wrote from their own observation. The convent owns a copy of Captain Andrew Hickey's book, autographed by him, given to the late Mother Superior at its first publication by John Gedney. No doubt they would enjoy other books and pictures on local history.

I had mentioned in a column that the Van Winkle Mattress Factory and the St. Anne Convent were now neighbors on Broadway. It seems the girls were given pillow cases full of clippings by the owner of Van Winkle Mattress Factory for their craft-work. He did not know, it seems, what they did with it, so she tells me about it, they make toy animals, like horses, dogs, cats, rabbits for small children to take to bed with them. They think they will call them "Sleepy Time Toys" as they are "cotton brooms" and the mattresses' as they are stuffed with the same filling, she writes. They are now working frantically on making little bunny-rabbits for the coming holidays. Each item is cut, stuffed and finished by hand, although parts of it are stitched together by machine.

The St. Anne girls of 287 Broadway work in this craft under the direction of Sister Helena Mary, who entered the Order of St. Anne about 1935. When the Christian Missions were forced out of China she went with the Sisters to the Philippines where for some years she directed a group of Philippine girls in making church vestments. From time to time they receive pieces of cloth, or yarn and once in a while a textile factory in New York sent them a large box of beautiful samples. No doubt these little soft toys will be seen on display locally. They are also working on a rhythm band and hope to make a tape recording of a rhyme they made up, set to an old 1925 tune.

I am glad to hear from St. Anne and that hand craftsmanship is not lost entirely to plastics, and mass production. I am sure that each soft toy is just a little different, and no doubt they have a great deal of pleasure from their craft. Talent is the one thing it is so difficult to sell now-a-days, but I understand there is already a demand for their items in one of the local establishments.

Rally Concludes Girl Scout Week

A capacity crowd of over 350 Scouts and guests attended the Saugerties Neighborhood rally at Donlon auditorium in celebration of the 54th anniversary of Girl Scouting in America. The program Saturday started with a formal flag ceremony by Cadette Troops 104 and 66. Color Sgt. Janice Feddes called for the Brownie, Junior and Cadette Scout promise and the audience joined in the pledge of allegiance and the national anthem. All flags were then posted on stage. Mistress of Ceremonies, Senior Scout of Troop 172, Karen Holloran welcomed all present and introduced song leaders of Troop 66, Marlene Martine, Patty Sauer, and Gayla Holloran, who led everyone in the welcome song of scouting. Recognition of the Neighborhood Service team, the Mesdames H. Hoffman J. Luley, and G. E. Holloran and neighborhood cookie chairman Mrs. E. Kolb, was followed by roll call of troop leaders, taken by Brownie Melissa Kolb, Junior Linda Falk and Cadette Marilyn Sauer.

Cadettes Sharen Hoffman and Karen Rightmyer of Troop 104 gave talks on facts of Scouting and the World Friendship Fund which was started as a memorial to the founder of scouting, Daisy Low. They explained how it had helped strengthen the ties between Scouts of America and 68 countries of the world. A Dimes for Daisy parade was held. Mrs. H. Hoffman, Neighborhood Chairman, accepted the contribution boxes on behalf of the Council and spoke briefly of the growth of Scouting in this area. She pointed out the need for a senior troop; said she hoped this lack would be remedied in the fall. Troop organizer Mrs. J. Luley was introduced; thanked for the job done during the past year and presented with a replica of the Scout pin.

Contest winners presented with individual ribbons were: Browner poster paintings—Romana Banks, Sharon Moseman, Karen Holloran, Junior essays—Toni Burgher, Jeannine Holmes, Pat Stenson, Eleanor Warfel; Cadette poems—Diana Hill, Sharon Smith. Troop honors in the form of tasseled flag ribbons were received by the following: For window displays, Brownie level, Troops 154, 70 and 37; Junior level, Troops 170, 73 and 133; Cadette level, Troops 104 and 66. Best decorated daisy boxes for the World Friendship Fund were won by Troops 66 and 104. All had previously been judged by qualified volunteers having no contact with the participants. Judges for the windows were Mrs. J. Whelan, Mrs. J. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. J. Gade, and for the boxes, Mrs. H. Hoffman, Mrs. J. Luley and Mrs. E. Farquharson.

After the awards, song leaders led Scouts in popular songs and rounds.

To introduce the movie, Light on the Mountain, guest speaker Mrs. D. Ennis, District Field Director of Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts was welcomed. She outlined the qualifications and characteristics looked for in a Senior Scout who hoped to be selected as a delegate to the biggest event in Senior Scouting in America, the Senior Roundup. She pointed out how important it was for even the youngest Brownie to start preparing herself for this opportunity by trying her best to live up to the laws and promise of scouting. She commended the effort of the many scouts participating in the rally program and said they had shown themselves willing to take over the greater responsibilities of citizens of their world of tomorrow.

Senior Scout Karen Holloran, one of the delegates from Ulster County to the Roundup, introduced the movie; said she had many vivid and wonderful memories of scenes filmed. She said the movie had been photographed entirely on location at the Roundup in Idaho last summer.

The program ended with a vote of thanks to Mrs. G. E. Holloran, rally chairman, and the assemblage joined in singing taps to conclude this 54th celebration of the Saugerties Neighborhood.

Dr. Edward Teller, who helped develop the H-bomb, gave his views in a letter to the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East and the Pacific which has just concluded hearings on U.S. policy in Asia. Chairman Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., released Teller's letter Friday.

"It is my opinion," Teller wrote, "that within the next 10 years, possibly even within the next five years, the Chinese will possess a considerable number of hydrogen bombs and that they also will have the means to deliver these explosives by rockets over a distance of at least a couple of thousand miles with an accuracy of a few miles."

But one of the nation's leading atomic scientists predicted that the Chinese will have hydrogen bombs and the rockets to deliver them within a decade.

Buddhist leaders and others have demanded that the military government in Saigon give way to a civilian one.

Officially, this was removed at his own request to rest. He appears robust and forceful at his public appearances but is known to have a sinus condition.

It was generally accepted that he was fired because of his resistance to accept orders from Saigon. This had run the 1st Corps as his own domain, going with the government only when it agreed with his wishes.

Reynolds Rolls Back Cigarette Price Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — One major cigarette manufacturer has canceled its price increase under White House pressure to hold the line against inflation.

Other tobacco companies were reported to be studying their recent price boosts today.

"This is good news to all who oppose inflation," said the White House of Friday's move by the R.J. Reynolds Co.

Reynolds said its wholesale prices Tuesday by 40 cents a thousand cigarettes. The company notified dealers Friday that it was restoring the price of Camels to $8.80 per thousand, less a 2 per cent cash discount.

Brand, Tempo and Cavalier reverted to $9 a thousand, less the 2 per cent cash discount. Reynolds said the rollback was "in accordance with the urgent request of the President of the United States and in cooperation with his effort to avoid consumer price increases at this time."

The company declined to say just how President Johnson had convinced it to cancel the price rise.

Reynolds stock dropped $2.25 Friday on the New York Stock Exchange. Similar declines were recorded by the other tobacco companies which raised their prices this week.

American Tobacco was down $2.38 at $36.88, Lorillard $2 at $48.75 and Liggett & Myers $2.63 at $71.25.

members of the family, including 3-year-old Martin, at gunpoint for three hours.

"He talked to the older boy some, watching television, including newscasts about himself. It seemed to tickle him," Mrs. Keeler said.

After about three hours, the robber demanded a get-away car and got it. He herded the Keelers into the car, leaving Martin behind.

Keeler drove. The gunman and Mrs. Keeler sat in the back. "It was a wild drive for quite a bit. He had my husband stop once to tell him that he was going to start shooting into the crowd if they didn't stop following us," Mrs. Keeler told newsmen.

The gunman fired then, and hit Seligman.

Lt. Dale Allen, a detective, said it was then that "we knew we had to take him. We moved up into position and pulled in my side and him I bailed out my side and we all converged on the rear seat."

Mrs. Keeler said that at this point, "I grabbed his gun, then my husband got in the back seat to help."

As the officers converged, a shot rang out and Baker slumped over.

The fatal shot was fired by Lt. Pat Lario, who had dashed up from another police car, officers said.

AWOL Since June 11

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — FBI agents say they found a young man who has been absent without leave from the Army since last June 11, hiding in a tunnel he had dug in the cellar of his mother's home.

Agents apprehended James Richmond, 20, Friday in the basement of a home in nearby Old Hanover Township which they said is owned by his mother, Dorothy Andrejak.

They said the entrance to the tunnel was covered by a large rock. The tunnel was 4-feet wide, 12-feet long and 3-feet deep.

and Navy carrier pilots flew 47 missions in clearing weather conditions which enabled pilots to assess some success.

The Air Force hit Highway 15 in the southern panhandle of North Viet Nam with day and night strikes against the major road leading to the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Pilots were subjected to heavy automatic weapons fire. One flight strafed anti-aircraft sites on a hill overlooking the road and sent back word that the guns had been silenced.

Under the light of their own flares, Phantom bombers hit the route Friday night and laid a heavy carpet of explosives on the Mu Gia Pass about 70 miles south of Vinh.

Thunderchiefs visited the Thanh Hoa storage area for the second straight day and destroyed six buildings. A huge secondary explosion hurled a deep-orange fire ball into the air.

The Navy pounded the Quang Suoi supply area 22 miles north-northeast of Thanh Hoa, destroyed 12 buildings, 10 railway boxcars and a surface to air missile site.

A Vietnamese force mopping up in the Xuan Loc area about 50 miles northeast of Saigon killed one Viet Cong and found five enemy bodies, victims of an air attack, a Vietnamese military spokesman reported.

About 350 troops are engaged in the continuing mop up operation in Long Khanh Province.

Two killed, 17 hurt

Two Vietnamese were killed and 17 others wounded Friday night when a grenade was thrown into an audience of 300 to 400 persons watching a performance of a cultural drama in the village of Binh Trung, about 15 miles east of Saigon. Some of the wounded were in serious condition.

A U.S. spokesman said the grenade throwing was the work of Viet Cong terrorists, apparently as part of a campaign to keep villagers from attending such presentations.

The performance was sponsored by the joint U.S. Public Affairs Office, and the team is one of several working under its sponsorship in various parts of the country.

It is not uncommon for Viet Cong terrorists to attack movie or theater audiences, especially if they are attending shows sponsored by the government or U.S. agencies.

Black Out Looms

Blame Is Put On White House

NEW YORK (AP) — A broadcasting union blamed the White House Friday for a dispute in which the union threatens to black out live television and radio broadcasting from the White House.

Harry G. Schlegel, director of network affairs for the AFL-CIO National Association of Broadcasting Employees and Technicians, said the White House is responsible for the fact that work assigned by contract to his union is being performed by men of the Signal Corps and by private contractors.

"The dispute is caused because the White House won't let CBS and NBC and ABC make the originations," he said. "I don't think we would have any problems with the companies if the White House would let them in."

Schlegel said his union has contracts with both the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co., specifying that technical work involved in setting up equipment for live presidential broadcasts from the White House is to be done by union members.

He said the work includes setting up microphones, lights, and cameras before the event, and operating some equipment, such as amplifiers, during the session.

Similar work for CBS is performed by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, he said.

In a March 2 letter, Schlegel said he notified NBC, ABC and the White House that the union "will not under any circumstances accept or handle any feeds (broadcasting transmissions) emanating from the White House unless they are in conformance with our agreements with you."

At least two such have been handled since then, however, and Schlegel said his union would continue to accept them pending a meeting Wednesday with officials from all three networks and IBEW.

Schlegel's views contradicted those expressed by deputy White House press secretary Robert H. Fleming, who said the White House was not directly involved in the dispute — at least at this point.

Fleming pictured it as a dispute between labor and management. The White House is aware of it, he said, adding, "But we are not in the business of mediating that."

City Court Cases

Hearing in City Court for a motorist cited for a traffic violation after a two-car collision early today, was adjourned to March 22.

Patrick H. Mitchell, 27, of 197 Washington Avenue, was charged with driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent after the mishap about 12:15 a. m. today on Albany Avenue at the Park Drive.

Police said that a car operated by Mitchell on Albany Avenue collided with one driven by Helene Napolitano, 24, of 371 Albany Avenue, which was exiting from the diner parking lot. Patrolman Otto Short investigated.

In other City Court cases today, a fraudulent check charge against William F. Weber, 29, of 86 Meadow Court, High Falls, was withdrawn with consent of the complainant, Fowler & Keith Hardware firm of Kingston. Restitution was made.

Two other motorists paid fines when they admitted speeding charges.

Allen Kaehler, 25, of 7 Benson Court, was fined $50 as a second offender, while Ronald F. Burns, 18, of Route 3, Kingston, was fined $15.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Richard Teachout, 22, of this community, about 20 miles southeast of Utica, was killed early today when struck by a car while walking along Route 28 here.

Dear Folks:

I just figured out another wife-saver!

If you have a dishwasher, this idea is really great; but if you don't it works, too.

At least once a day (whenever you are doing your main meal dishes), I think you should pick up TWO of the grates on your stove and two of the gadget pans underneath them, and pop 'em in the dishwasher before you start it! If you have no dishwasher, then wash two of 'em along with your dishes each night.

Amazingly, these wife-haters (that's the stove parts that must be cleaned!) come clean in a jiffy, because the carbon has not been "cooked" on, and all it takes is a swipe with a dish rag.

But, the best part about this method is:

You still have two burners in workable condition on the stove, and no one in the family will complain, because they can use those two any time.

Try to remember NOT to wash all of the top stove parts in any one day—then it becomes an ugly chore.

No more dispan hands roughed up by steel wool pads, and instead of taking hours to get them clean, they are done in seconds, right along with your dishes.

After talking with a chemist to learn WHY it sometimes takes us so long to clean a stove, his answer was that carbon, grease spots and spills go on one coat at a time, and must be taken off this way. He is right.

After trying this for six months, I assure you that the simple answer is to pop only HALF of them in your dishes each day.

Prevents drudgery, saves energy, soap pads, and most of all when it comes time to thoroughly clean the whole stove — no problems at all because most of it will already have been done.

Dear Heloise:

I dropped a glass container of furniture polish accidentally, and it broke . . . ruining my rug.

I now use an empty plastic container from dish detergent, and pour my polish in it.

Now, it's easier to hold, is unbreakable, and I just squeeze as little as I want to use at a time. This way, none is wasted, either.

... E. Pomerantz

Dear Heloise:

I purchased an extra flour shaker to hold a mixture of flour salt, pepper, garlic and onion salt, etc.

Each time I want to flour and season meat, before frying, all I have to do is shake my ready-mixed preparation over the meat.

This seasoned flour is especially wonderful for making the gravy.

Dear Heloise:

I like the shape of nylons or socks better when pinned up to dry by the heels.

I stretch the foot one way and leg the other way—the shape of our feet and legs.

This keeps the wrinkles off the instep.

This makes a dandy jar opener—just place it around the lid and turn. Works every time.

Your Life And Mine

BY CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

WHAT MONEY WON'T BUY

Money is handy stuff to have around—no one could deny that. In the kind of social structure in which we live we need it to provide for our needs and meet our obligations and keep ourselves square with the world. With characteristic overstatement Mark Twain has said that "the lack of money is the root of all evil." While recognizing that all evil does not stem from a lack of money, it is true that much evil does. When we were growing up, mother often quoted the old proverb: "When the wolf comes in at the door, love flies out at the window." Many of the problems which play havoc with homes have to do, as we all know, with insufficient income to make possible an economically stable situation in which love and creative planning can flourish.

Thus it is right and proper that a large segment of life normally is devoted to the making of a living—in the monetary sense. But we need to be on guard lest this become our highest aim—our consuming passion. A rich but miserly Chasid once came to a rabbi. The rabbi led him to the window. "Look out there," he said, "and tell me what you see." "People," answered the rich man. Then the rabbi led him to a mirror. "What do you see now?" he said. "I see myself," answered the Chasid. Then the rabbi said: "Behold—in the window there is glass and in the mirror there is glass. But the glass of the window is covered with a little silver, and no sooner is a little silver added than you cease to see others and see only yourself."

The perspective which envisions the fact that great things like love and happiness, and inner heart contentment, are not obtainable at the monetary exchanges is so important. Recall that ancient monarch who, when he felt life ebbing away, cried: "Half my kingdom for an inch of time." But no one appeared to take him up on his offer—for "inches of time" are not available, even for whole kingdoms. Money is irrelevant as a medium of exchange for life. (What shall a man give in exchange for his life? Matthew 16:26.)

"It's good to have money," counsels George Horace Lorimer. "And the things that money can buy; but it's good, too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy."

KINGS KEYNOTES, a group of five "preachers kids" will appear at the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, Tuesday, March 29 in an 8 p. m. concert of hymns, gospel songs and spirituals. The Rev. Patrick R. Vostell, pastor, invites the public to attend. Organized in 1964, the group has traveled extensively through the eastern states and Canada giving over 300 concerts and has recorded on the Celestial label. Don Storms, manager of the group sings tenor. His wife Ruth is pianist; Joanne McPeck, alto, and her sister, Sharon Moore, soprano and Paul Moore, bass.

Flatbush Pastor To Be Installed Sunday Afternoon

A former local seminary associate and summer supply pastor, returns to this area as pastor of the Flatbush Reformed Church Sunday when the Classis of Ulster conducts service of installation.

He is the Rev. Robert A. Hess, who served as seminary associate at Old Dutch Church 1962-63 and later as summer supply at the Saugerties Reformed Church. The installation will take place 4 p. m. at the Flatbush Church. A reception staged by the Guild for Christian Service of the church will be held after the service.

Clergy to Take Part
Area clergy taking part in the service will be the Rev. Ronald D. Lokhorst, pastor of the Port Even Reformed Church and president of the Classis of Ulster; the Rev. Albert Liberator, pastor of Malden Methodist Church and vice president of the Saugerties Area Council of Churches and the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of Old Dutch Church.

The Rev. Orville Hine, pastor of the Saugerties Reformed Church will preach the sermon; the Rev. Edwin C. Coon, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church will give the charge to the pastor and the Rev. George D. Wood, retired pastor of the Flatbush church will give the charge to the congregation. The choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Jean Steltz. A graduate of Arkansas College with a BA degree and Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Austin, Texas, with a BD degree, the Rev. Mr. Hess earned his master of theology degree at the University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh, Scotland in 1965. While in Scotland, his wife, Glenda, taught biology in a Roman Catholic girls' school in Edinburgh.

He was ordained by the Southern Presbyterian Church in June 1964.

Through the efforts of the Rev. Mr. Hine and with the approval of the Reformed Church and the Flatbush congregation, he accepted his first official charge at the local church early this year.

Bishops' Appeal Concludes Sunday

Forty million destitute men, women and children will benefit from the 1966 Appeal of the Catholic Bishops' Fund which concludes this Sunday with a special collection in all Catholic churches to support the overseas programs of Catholic Relief Services.

The agency operates in 80 countries and areas of Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. The children's collection which started Feb. 23 in Catholic elementary and secondary schools will continue to the end of Lent.

His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, is honorary chairman of the appeal in the New York Archdiocese and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry A. Cauley, archdiocesan director.

Catholic Relief Services, the largest private voluntary agency in the world engaged in overseas relief maintains a global network of mass feeding programs, distributes clothing and medical supplies to the needy and initiates self-help and community development projects in underdeveloped or ravaged areas.

The total value of the relief supplies alone shipped overseas last year was almost $132 million.

Wassaic Film To Be Shown at Franklin Church

Film showing the program and activities of the Wassaic State School for the Retarded will be shown at the Franklin Street AME Zion Church at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Many former students from the school are residing in Kingston at Scardfield House for Girls, in private homes in the community after completing training at the Gateway Industries and finding full time employment.

Mrs. Marjorie Young, coordinator of volunteer activities, Walter Johanson, supervisor of social services and Mrs. Doris Jennings social worker for the Ulster County area will be on hand to discuss this program and answer questions. The public may attend.

Will Record Salt Water Intrusion In Hudson River

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, (D. N.Y. 28th District,) said today that a salt content monitoring system which he requested the Department of the Interior to install on the Hudson River would soon be operational.

"Residents of New York City, Poughkeepsie, and other communities which take water from the Hudson River will have complete information available on the quantity and quality of fresh water available as a result of this system. At any time the situation should become critical, as it did during last summer's drought, we will know immediately whether to stop an intake of water at the Chelsea pumping station."

"I have been advised that three monitoring systems will be operational from the Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, and Peekskill bridges in a few weeks. This equipment will record salt intrusion up the river. In addition, equipment has been installed at two gaging stations in the Poughkeepsie area to measure water level as it changes in the river. This information is necessary because the salt water comes in and ebbs with the tide." The equipment is being installed by the U. S. Geological Survey team in Albany.

New York City will begin taking 100 million gallons of water from the Hudson River daily on completion—except Monday—of the pumping station at Chelsea. The station was built over the protests of Hudson Valley residents that the saline content of the river frequently rises to unsafe levels in the area above Newburgh, and further that large quantities of water withdrawn from the river at that point would affect the quality of water used by the city of Poughkeepsie, a few miles to the north of the pumping station.

Bishop to Visit Orthodox Church

Born in Istanbul, Turkey, Metropolitan Germanos, was one of the first graduates from the Theological Seminary of Halki. For many years he has served the Greek Orthodox Church of America as an Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese, 10 East 79th Street, New York City. As one of the great scholars and authors he has written many educational religious and historical books. He also serves as a professor at the Holy Cross Theological Seminary of Boston, Mass.

Dear Abby . . . Putting Cart Before Horse

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This man, age 52, has been missing my sister, age 54, in his barn every night for the last nine years. This started one year after her husband died. I have been praying for her and trying to help her all these years, but to no avail. She denies any wrong doing. I have spoken to several clergymen in town about her shameful sinning, and have asked all our friends and relatives to pray that my sister will put aside her evil ways and repent. My brother who is a pastor is on her side. He says I should not judge, that the Lord will be the Judge on Judgment Day, but by then it will be too late. (Galatians 6:1). How can I help my poor misguided sister to be saved if everyone is against me.

ALONE
DEAR ALONE: Your brother is right. "Judge not, that ye be not judged." (Matthew 7:1-2). You could be mistaken. Put yourself in your sister's place. How would you like it, if your sister went around asking everyone in town to pray for you when you had done no wrong?

DEAR ABBY: I am 59 years old but don't look it. I weigh 147 pounds and stand 5 feet 2 inches tall. I keep myself looking nice and carry my weight well. I think I look a lot better at this weight than if I were to reduce and get all wrinkled in the face and neck like lots of women I know. I am divorced and have been going with Walt for a year now. He is 50. He speaks of marriage and I am all for it, but here is the catch. Walt says, "If you will go on a diet and keep losing weight until I tell you to stop, and then show me your birth certificate, I will marry you." Abby, I never told him how old I was because I never thought it was important. Besides, we are near enough the same age, and I look younger than Walt. How about the dieting part? Set me straight. I like him a lot.

WALT'S LADY FRIEND
DEAR LADY FRIEND: Better show your birth certificate first. It might not be necessary for you to lose the weight.

DEAR ABBY: When I invite five or six widowed friends to my home for a lovely dinner and an evening of cards their gratitude is overwhelming. Several have commented that it has been "years" since they have used their nice china and silver. That set me to wondering. Why do so many widows fall into a lazy do-nothing rut and tell themselves, "I have no one to set a lovely table and cook for." They could do it for each other, couldn't they? They all have beautiful apartments, lovely things with which to entertain, and many are excellent cooks. I am not talking about widows who must watch their pennies. I mean those who have money for travel and clothes. I don't mean to sound unkind. Abby, but perhaps some lonely widows would be less lonely if they entertained a little instead of waiting for someone to entertain THEM.

A FRIEND
CONFIDENTIAL TO LITTLE D. IN BIG D.: Don't call a doctor a "quack" if you aren't prepared to prove it, or you're a dead duck.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Birth Control Pills Harmful to Children

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Birth control pills are second only to aspirin as the cause of accidental poisoning among children treated at St. Louis Children's Hospital says.

"We treated 393 victims of accidental poisoning during 1965," said Miss Lilly D. Hoekstra, hospital administrator, "and aspirin accounted for about one-third of these."

"We saw an increasing number of children who swallowed birth control pills," she added. "The frequency of this kind of accidental poisoning is now second only to aspirin."

"One of the reasons birth control pills are being swallowed so frequently by curious children is that mothers leave the pills in a conspicuous place so they won't forget to take them."

South Erases Setting Losers

BY JACOBY &amp; SON

1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

South knew that he was pushing some when he went to four spades and was not at all surprised when West doubled.

West opened the king of clubs and South's Analysis of the lead and Review of the bidding told him that West was going to show up with every missing high card. South's Count of losers showed seven possible losers of which three were certain. He was going to lose to the ace of hearts, the king of spades and either the king or queen of clubs and he had two more possible losers in each minor suit.

Completing the word ARCH with "How can I make the hand?" South noted that he could get some discards on dummy's hearts and ruff some clubs with dummy's trumps. Then South was ready for action.

He won the first trick since he could not afford to give West a chance to shift to a diamond. Then he led his jack of hearts.

West made a good play by ducking but South overtook; led out another high heart and discarded a diamond while West took his ace.

West led the king of diamonds but it was too late. South won in dummy and discarded his last little diamond and the ten of hearts. Then South led a club and West was back in the lead.

He led a trump but all South had to do was to win in his own hand with the seven spot; ruff a club with dummy's eight; return to his hand by ruffing a diamond with the ace of trumps; ruff his last club with dummy's ten and concede a trick to the king of trumps.

It should be noted that if the king of diamonds was the opening lead South would have had no way to make the hand but West had no way to know that.

13th Annual Kingston Cage Tourney to Start Next Saturday

Dickinson Has Lead

By DUKE FERGUSON
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Gardner Dickinson has that lean and hungry look—hungry for the $21,000 first prize money in the $110,000 Florida Citrus Open golf tournament.

And if the slim, 130-pound player from Douthan, Ala., keeps playing the consistent golf he has the past two rounds, he may enrich his bank account considerably.

Dickinson, who has had his ups and downs on the tournament trail, took the lead Friday after the second round with 34-68 for a 36-hole total of 137, five under par.

Though Dickinson played good golf, it was the disintegration of Sam Snead's game that gave him a one stroke lead over the field.

Snead went into the second round leading with a five-under par 66, two strokes ahead of the nearest competitor, but blew it on the back nine, where he carded five bogeys. His 76 left him at even par for the two rounds with 142.

Dickinson's putting helped him into the lead going into today's third round, cut to 77 players out of a field of more than 140.

One stroke behind Dickinson are Dean Refram and Joe Campbell, with 36-hole totals of 138.

Two strokes off the lead are John Schlee, R. H. Sikes, and Bill Maxwell, all at 139. Dick Lythle, Tommy Bolt and Gary Brewer Jr., are tied at 140.

The Big Three of golf, Gary Player, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, have had poor showings during the first two rounds.

Player, competing in his first U.S. tournament of the season, missed the 147 cut, carding a 36-hole total of 150, and packed his bags. Nicklaus had rounds of 70-73 to bunch with six others at 143. Palmer, who was back at 145 with rounds of 75-70.

Spartans, Clarkson Play for Hockey Title

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Late-blooming Michigan State and Eastern Michigan State are likely tonight for the National Collegiate Athletic Association hockey championship.

Michigan State, which has come on strong after a dismal start this season to surprise everybody but Spartan Coach Arno Bessone, bids to keep the NCAA crown in the West, where it has rested for 11 years.

The Spartans will again be underdogs, however, against a Clarkson team which has fashioned a 23-2 record enroute to the title game.

"That's okay with us... we'll take the Cinderella label," Bessone said Friday night after his Spartans had beaten Boston University 2-1 in a semifinal game at the University of Minnesota to keep Western hopes alive for a 12th consecutive championship.

"Now we're going to the ball," Bessone added.

Clarkson Coach Leonard Ceglarski, whose Knights downed Denver 4-3 in the other semifinal Thursday night, didn't challenge pre-tourney figuring which surmised that the winner of the Clarkson-Denver game likely would go all the way.

"We won't argue with that," Ceglarski said.

Great Turnabout
Michigan State is not to be taken lightly, however, after a turnabout which has seen the Spartans recover from a 4-10 mid-season record to win 11 of their last 14 games.

The Spartans finished sixth in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association regular-season race, then knocked off Michigan and WCHA champion Michigan Tech in the Western playoffs to make it into the NCAA.

Clarkson, winner of eight straight games, beat Michigan State 6-3 in an early-season game at Potsdam, N.Y.

Not since Rensselaer beat Minnesota 5-4 in overtime in 1954 has the East taken the title. And the East has had only one other champion in the 19-year history of the tournament, Boston College in 1949.

Michigan State picked up steam after a ragged, scoreless first period to whip Boston Friday night. Sophomore Doug French's first goal as a collegian gave MSU a 1-0 lead and Doug Velmar scored the winning goal with 7½ minutes to play.

Boston scored with only 23 seconds left on Pete McLachlan's rebound shot, breaking MSU goalie Gaye Cooley's bid for the second shutout in NCAA tournament history.

Boston and Denver meet in the third-place game this afternoon.

Kentucky Tops Duke, 83-79; Texas Western Defeats Utah

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — The top-ranked Kentucky Wildcats will be favored to win their fifth national collegiate basketball championship tonight despite Coach Adolph Rupp's dour observations and dire predictions.

"They look like they'll be rough to get along with," Rupp said after watching brash Texas Western whip Utah 85-78 Friday night and move into the NCAA tourney final for the first time in history. "We can't jump like them."

But Rupp's runs outbounded taller Duke, as they had done to other bigger teams during the season, and edged the second-ranked Blue Devils 83-79 in the opener of the semifinal double-header witnessed by 14,253 fans.

Texas Western, the nation's No. 3 team in the final Associated Press poll, is even bigger and rougher than Duke. But that may be the downfall of the

Uhl Gets 34, Earns Laurels As Top Player

Putting forth a superlative team effort, Spartan Pools of Kingston beat Felicello's Pipers, 100-92, last night at Marlboro Central School to win the championship of the annual Marlboro Invitational Basketball tournament.

Jumpin' Joe Uhl scored 34 points and earned honors as the tourney's "Most Valuable Player." He nipped teammates Joe Klonowski and Bob Bondar in the balloting.

The Spartans had only five players suited up and they were simply too good and experienced for the losers. Klonowski and Boice did yeoman work on the backboards, outplaying Bill Gray and Bob Litwiler, the two Felicello big boys.

3rd Quarter Spurt
After a close first half, which saw the teams embraced in a 21-21 first period score and the Spartans ahead, 47-45, at intermission, the locals moved to a 12-point lead, 77-65, starting the final session. They held off a belated Piper rally to earn the game and the championship.

Uhl collected a dozen buckets and added 10 foul shots. Bondar (22), Klonowski (15), Boice (12) and Ron Miller (17) added adequate support. Steve Aurigemma made 26 for the losers. Gray, who scored 50 in his previous outing, was held to 16 this time.

Houston Returns to Astrodome

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston tries out the Astrodome's synthetic grass tonight while the rest of the National League wonders whether fresh-man manager Grady Hatton is using make believe ball players.

The Astros, never higher than eighth place in four seasons, won their sixth exhibition game in eight starts Friday, beating Kansas City 6-3. Tonight they open a two-game series against the Los Angeles Dodgers in the Astrodome, playing on an infield ringed by a chemical surfaced called, appropriately enough, AstroTurf.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, still playing without Los Angeles' latest movie stars, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, continued to lose. Baltimore ripped the world champions 9-2, giving LA six Grapefruit losses in as many starts.

Yanks Bow 7-0
In other games Friday, Cleveland ended San Francisco's six-game winning streak, beating the Giants 6-2, while the Chicago White Sox blanked Washington 5-0 and Atlanta shut out the New York Yankees 7-0.

The New York Mets shaded St. Louis 8-7, Detroit battered Philadelphia 16-2, Boston edged Cincinnati 8-7 and California whipped the Chicago Cubs 10-1.

Real grass never quite made it inside Houston's dome so the Astros are experimenting with the artificial turf. The infield and foul areas will be covered with it tonight and if the synthetic grass works out, the entire outfield will be covered with it by mid-season.

By then Hatton could have the Astros in first place if their spring play is any indicator. Houston made the most of four Kansas City errors for five unearned runs Friday and ended the Athletics' five-game winning streak.

Rookie Chuck Harrison rifled a two-run homer for Houston and Dave Giusti hurled four innings, permitting only one scratch hit.

Boog Powell smashed a three-run homer, his fourth of the spring, as Baltimore won its sixth game in seven starts. Four Dodger pitchers, including World Series winner Claude Osteen, allowed 11 Orioles hits.

Cleveland tore into San Francisco's Bob Bolin in the fifth inning after the Giant starter had allowed just two hits over the first four. Six hits, including a triple by Duke Sims, produced five Indian runs and erased a 2-0 San Francisco lead.

Joe Horlen worked four hitless innings as the White Sox whipped Washington. Shortstop Ed Brinkman's error led to a five-run seventh inning for Chicago with Ed Stroud's two-run single the key hit.

Mel Battered
The Braves battered four Yankee pitchers, including 20-game winner Mel Stottlemyre, for 11 hits. Billy Cowan homered for the winners and Tony Cloninger, Hank Fisher and rookie Jim Britton combined for the two-hitter.

Rookie outfielder Cleon Jones whacked four hits and Jim Hickman hammered his third homer of the spring as the Mets flexed their muscles in a 17-hit barrage against St. Louis. Ex-Met Charlie Smith homered for the Cardinals.

Mickey Lolich hurled six strong innings and rookie outfielder Wayne Redmond walloped a grand slam homer as Detroit rolled over the Phillies. Dick McAuliffe and Jerry Lumpe drove in three runs apiece for the Tigers, with McAuliffe also hitting a home run.

Kentucky Tops Duke, 83-79; Texas Western Defeats Utah

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — The top-ranked Kentucky Wildcats will be favored to win their fifth national collegiate basketball championship tonight despite Coach Adolph Rupp's dour observations and dire predictions.

Texas Western, the nation's No. 3 team in the final Associated Press poll, is even bigger and rougher than Duke. But that may be the downfall of the Miners against a team with the finesse and discipline of Kentucky. Each of the finalists takes a 27-1 record into the championship game.

The Miners were charged with 27 fouls against Utah, with 6-7 David Lattin and 6-5 Harry Flournoy fouling out.

Second Half Rally
Kentucky blew a 59-52 second half lead as Duke rallied behind Jack Martin to tie the score 69-69 with 4:48 to play. But fevered Larry Conley scored four clutch points in the stretch and the Wildcats capitalized on a muffed layup by Duke's Mike Lewis.

Conley, who had a temperature of 102 degrees Thursday night, was rested periodically throughout the contest. But he sank two free throws in a bonus situation to put Kentucky ahead 73-71 and then drove the length of the court for a basket to make it 79-73 with less than a minute remaining.

Duke had a chance to tie the score after Conley's foul shots, 12.

"We are obliged to reply in the negative, inasmuch as our awards program provides for the conversion of the 7-10 split." This means that all pins except the 7-10 must be knocked down on the first ball and that on the second delivery the 7-10 pins are converted.

"While the accomplishment mentioned in your letter is somewhat of an oddity, we have received many reports of similar achievements." In other words, Doug, close but no cigar.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Gene Rhoda of Valparaiso, Ind., was one game away from his second straight Professional Bowlers Association tournament title and fifth over-all following Friday's semifinal in the $40,000 Buckeye Open.

Rhoda posted a leading 9,022 total for 40 games, including 600 bonus pins for winning 12 of his 16 match games in Friday's play.

Rhoda finished 204 pins ahead of his nearest rival, Bill Tucker of Los Angeles. Joining Rhoda and Tucker in Saturday's nationally televised finals will be Pete Tountas of Tucson, Ariz., and Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz.

By virtue of his leading through the 40-game qualifier, Rhoda will be seeded into the championship match. The other three will bowl a round-robin to determine who will meet the Indiana strongman for the $5,000 first place check.

Rhoda won last week's St. Paul Open. Earlier in the year, he won the Charlotte, N.C., PBA test.

Federation Again on Record Against Party Permit System

A strong plea against extension of present boundaries for party permit deer hunting was made by William J. Meyer, president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County, at a panel discussion with State Conservation Department officials, Thursday night at Jake's Grill.

State officials in attendance included C. William Severinghaus, Supervising Wildlife Biologist; Fred Colson, Game Biologist; Fred Ford, District Eight Game Biologist and Warren McKeon, District Eight Game Manager.

Citing the past "two easy winters" as one of the reasons for an increase in the deer herd, Meyer argued that the issuance

Baseball attorneys argued Friday that the sport's exemption from federal antitrust regulation extended to the present case, which resulted from the Braves move from Milwaukee to Atlanta.

Wisconsin accused the National League of violating the state's antitrust law by authorizing the transfer and refusing to grant Milwaukee an expansion franchise. The state charged conspiracy and illegal use of the monopolistic structure of organized baseball to boycott Milwaukee as a major league city.

Lakers Put Crimp On St. Louis Hopes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks, fighting for a playoff berth in the National Basketball Association Western Division, dropped a 132-120 decision Friday night to the Los Angeles Lakers.

In Friday's only other game, Baltimore clinched second place in the West by whipping Cincinnati 125-105 as Bailey Howell, Don Oll and Jim Barnes combined for 72 points. The Bullets, with one game remaining, lead St. Louis by three.

The loss to LA cut the Hawks' third-place lead to one-half game over San Francisco, but Guerin was thinking positively. St. Louis has three games remaining — tonight at home against Detroit, Sunday afternoon at Detroit and Tuesday night in New York.

San Francisco has just two to play — both against Los Angeles. Tonight the Warriors enjoy the home-court advantage, and Sunday night the California rivals close out the regular season here.

The two zones of Pakistan are separated by 1,000 miles of Republic of India territory.

Woodstock News Says Race Show Well Worth Trip

A new light lines the hall walls of Bennett Elementary School in Boiceville — a result of the concerted effort of Mrs. Gordon ("Ginger") Anderson, head of Ontario's Cultural Arts program, and Miss Alice Benjamin, Bennett's art teacher, and the blessings of Ronald P. Vanni, principal of Bennett School.

Another of the many services provided to Ontario's school population by Cultural Arts, this is an art exhibition of the work of Paul Race, of Hurley. It will be on view until March 23, and Vanni has graciously invited the public to come see it.

Only 21 years of age, Race was graduated from Kingston High School and has furthered his art studies at Ulster County Community College. He has been described as a polite, nice, and earnest and quiet. His work reflects these qualities to a degree: it is well-mannered, orderly and serious, but it is not quiet. Using color for words, technique for style, and composition for theme, Race speaks to the observer not loudly but eloquently; and as the first works of a young writer show talent, but a new and sometimes clumsy handling of his material, so, too, do the works of Race. His picture of a dog is an example of this. In his watercolors of birds, a certain lack of proportion in the bodies of the birds is fully compensated by an exquisite use of line and color. Although some critics might find fault with its perspective, his Butterflies and Books—a combination of tempera, pen-and-ink and collage—is breath-taking in its interpretation. Two works using a watercolor and pen-and-ink combination, particularly one featuring sailboats, are also exquisite, reminding one of Japanese prints in the use of bright color and the feeling of space. Finally, his Haunted House, one in tempera and pen-and-ink, and handled masterfully in shades of purple, yellow, chateau and black, is eerily exquisite.

"Art is a cultural experience," said Miss Benjamin, the art teacher, "and these kids (i. e. the Bennett pupils) are having a ball. A lot of them watched me put up the pictures, and they were surprised that one person could do so much and so many. That was their greatest reaction, the idea that one person could do so much. I think it was a kind of lesson for them. And then the fact that this is still a very young person, not too many years older than some of them. We've been very glad to have them."

She also mentioned the fact that children can identify with most of the works, for there are chalk and crayon drawings of scenes around the Ashokan Dam that they recognize, a scene showing an elephant in a clearing which is reminiscent of books about animals they have seen or read about in the Bennett library, and pictures done in media with which they themselves have worked.

All in all, it's a wonderful exhibition. Just the still life of a lamp and fruit, rendered exquisitely in pastel on velor paper, is worth the trip to the Bennett School, and if the word "exquisite" has appeared frequently here, it is only because it best describes Race's work.

At the time of this writing, Race has had an interview with Woodstock's renowned and beloved John Pike. We predict a wonderful future for this young man.

Book on Bellows Called Overdue

George Bellows, one of the greatest of all modern American realist painters and a resident of Woodstock before his death, is the subject of a highly acclaimed new book, Bellows, for whom a local lane is named and whose works are still exhibited here at the K Gallery, is catching the fancy of readers across the country in a biography by Charles H. Morgan.

The book is entitled, George Bellows: Painter of America, and is profusely illustrated with 68 pictures, not the least of which is the cover illustration of a Bellows prize fight painting.

Morgan, head of the Fine Arts Department of Amherst College, maintains that Bellows saw his America through the unclouded eyes of a realist painter. To prove it, Professor Morgan has written the first full-length biography of one of Woodstock's most famous residents whose reputation has increased rapidly and steadily over the years.

Bellows painted America from coast to coast, often painting Woodstock canvases in his documentation of the American scene. Many critics feel he caught the ethos, settings, people and pastimes, not only for his own day but for all time to come. Famed for his vibrant scenes of prizefights, he painted works that range from a Crucifixion to pastoral idylls, from tenement life to his hauntingly perceptive portraits. One of the latter, a study of his daughter, was exhibited here last year.

Born in the Midwest in 1882, Bellows came to quick prominence in New York, and was featured at the famous Armory Show in 1913. Author Morgan brings Bellows to life against a pulsing America's dynamic social background, and shows how he achieved his goal of becoming a major artist who made an exciting and enduring contribution to the history of American art.

Critics and readers across the country this week were hailing the book one which was long overdue; praised the wealth of detailed information in the tome. Fascinating reading, said most, adding that the illustrations contribute to the value of the work.

Should Trim Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce's chief economist has told Congress that the federal government should fight inflation by trimming its spending rather than increasing taxes.

"If ever fiscal prudence were called for it is now," said Dr. Carl Madden in testimony before the fiscal policy subcommittee of the Joint Economic Committee Friday.

He added that the government "has been slow in recognizing the inflationary pressures generated by its monetary and fiscal policies."

Madden described the estimated $1.8 billion deficit in the administration's budget as "at best speculative and at worst misleading" and contended "it was achieved by what have been called 'gimmicks' on both the receipts and expenditures sides."

"The chamber favors restraint in spending when fiscal stringency is indicated — as at present — in order to contain demand," said "and we favor reduction in tax rates when fiscal ease is indicated in order to stimulate the economy when it is operating below capacity."

He also urged retention of the investment tax credit, terming it "a desirable, permanent feature of a good tax system."

Air Force Seeks Women For Executive Posts

Women possessing college degrees who are looking for positions requiring executive ability may serve as officers in the Air Force in over a dozen fields, according to local recruiter Sgt. Dave Pauly.

WAF officers serve in many management and executive positions among which are personnel, Intelligence, Supply, Education and Training, Engineering, Special Investigation, and weather. Many may pursue their graduate study through Air Force sponsorship.

At officers in the United States Air Force, they receive automatic pay increases, worldwide travel, an opportunity to further their education, annual 30 days paid vacations, and free medical and dental care. These are a few of the advantages the Air Force offers women who qualify.

In addition to serving at installations in the United States, WAF officers are located in England, France, Germany, Japan, Puerto Rico, and Bermuda.

A WAF officer candidate first attends a three-month Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., to earn a commission as a Second Lieutenant.

Further information without incurring an obligation is available from the Air Force Recruiting Officer at 597 Broadway in Kingston.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Will a federal income tax increase be necessary to finance the Viet Nam war and to halt inflation? That was a big question in business and financial circles during the week.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said a "moderate" tax increase may become necessary but maintained it is too soon to decide.

Will Act Promptly

President Johnson has pledged that he will ask prompt enactment of a tax increase if he decides that higher levies are required to prevent inflation.

"We do not want to put the brakes on unnecessarily or too fast," Fowler said. "We want to watch and weigh all developments carefully."

He added that, "As of now, the administration is shifting from a policy of steady stimulus of demand to a policy of moderate restraint."

The Joint Economic Committee

of Congress said there was increasing evidence that a general tax increase would be needed this year to restrain inflation.

Work Out Details

Democratic members of the committee urged Congress to work out the details of such a tax increase now so that it could be put into effect quickly later by passage of a simple joint resolution of Congress and the signature of President Johnson.

Republican members agreed that a tax increase will probably be needed this year but they argued that it could be avoided if the administration cut spending and if the Federal Reserve Board tightened further the availability of credit.

Democrats recommended that the special 7 per cent tax credit given to business on its expenditures for equipment be temporarily suspended to discourage further rapid rises in such spending. Republicans said suspension of the investment credit should be considered along with increases in individual and corporate taxes.

President Johnson signed a bill which will bring the government about $6 billion in additional revenue over the next 15 months. The first effect of the legislation is to increase from 6 per cent to 7 per cent the excise tax on car sales and to reinstate the 10 per cent on telephone calls, which had been reduced to 3 per cent. It also provides for speedups in the collection of corporate and personal income taxes.

New Records Set

Industrial production and personal income climbed to new records in February.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production rose to 151.3 per cent of the 1957-59 average from 150.1 per cent in January and was substantially above the 139.2 per cent of a year earlier.

The Commerce Department reported that personal income advanced by $4 billion to $556.3 billion annual rate in February. Wages and salaries rose $2.8 billion to a $376.6 billion annual rate.

The Commerce Department also said that manufacturers expect their inventories to grow more slowly in the first and second quarters of 1966 after surging in 1965's closing months. A survey showed that manufacturers expect to raise inventories by $1 billion to $69 billion at the end of this quarter and to further boost them by $1.3 billion to $70.3 billion by the end of June.

In another report, the Commerce Department said that corporate profits increased by $1.75 billion during the fourth quarter of 1965 to an annual rate of $75.25 billion. It estimated national income, including corporate profits, at a rate of $571 billion for the fourth quarter of last year.

Newsprint Scramble

The newsprint price situation became scrambled. Last week Canadian producers initiated a $10-a-ton increase, putting the price in the Eastern United States at $144 a ton and in the Western United States at $134.

During the week one producer announced a $7-a-ton boost and two others announced $5-a-ton increases. Then two other producers who originally had raised their prices $10 substituted $5 raises.

R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. rescinded the increase at the request of President Johnson.

General Tire & Rubber Co. advanced prices for passenger car, truck, farm and industrial tires by 1 to 3 per cent. Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. said it would add 3 per cent to the prices of most passenger car tires.

Automobile production during the week was estimated at 200,000 cars, the same as last week but down from 215,854 a year ago.

Steel production during the week posted its 10th week-to-week gain of this year. It totaled 2,692,000 tons, compared with 2,660,000 tons the previous week.

Fate of Lindsay Tax Plan Hinges On Transit Hike

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican legislative leaders have warned Mayor John V. Lindsay that his tax program for the city does not stand a chance of passage in Albany unless the city hikes its 15-cent transit fare.

Meeting with Lindsay Friday were Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges and Assembly Minority Leader Perry Duryea. After the session, Brydges said a fare increase "was precedent to everything else" if the tax program was to pass the Legislature.

Lindsay has asked for a city income tax and a 50 per cent increase in stock transfer taxes. The latter has led to a threat by the New York Stock Exchange to move elsewhere.

Brydges also said "there is disquiet over the difference between the fares in the city and upstate."

The mayor said he wanted to avoid a fare increase if at all possible.

Democratic City Council President Frank O'Connor commented:

"The way I look at it, the mayor must make a commitment whether there will or will not be a fare increase before the council will act on the tax package."

Find Annenberg Kin Guilty in Girl's Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Friede, 25-year-old grandson of the late publisher Moses Annenberg, pleaded guilty Friday to second-degree manslaughter in the heroin-induced death of 19-year-old Celeste Crenshaw.

Friede admitted injecting heroin into Miss Crenshaw, who died of "acute and chronic intravenous narcotism."

He denied, however, that he gave the injection with any thought of causing her death.

The body of the girl was found Feb. 7 in the trunk of a car driven by Friede. She had been dead two weeks.

Friede told police he lives on a $27,000 annual income from a trust fund set up by Annenberg, who had been publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Friede is the son of Mrs. William B. Jaffe, the former Evelyn Annenberg. She is a director of the family firm, Triangle Publications.

Triangle publishes not only the Inquirer but the Philadelphia Daily News, TV Guide, Seventeen magazine and other publications.

Friede, indicted Feb. 25, has been held in jail since his arrest and has not sought bail.

He will be sentenced in State Supreme Court April 15. He faces up to 16 years in prison.

Miss Crenshaw was the daughter of divorced parents. She had been living at the Barbizon Hotel for Women in Manhattan.

Plan Transfer Of 25 Patients To New Hospital

Transfer of some 25 patients from the Veterans Memorial Hospital at Ellenville to the new $2 million Ellenville Community Hospital on Route 209 northeast of the village, is scheduled for 9 a. m. Sunday, it was confirmed today.

A spokesman for the hospital said that three volunteer units — from Ellenville, Kerhonkson and Pine Bush ambulances — will transfer the patients to the new 63-bed facility, thus ending the use of the old Veterans Memorial as a hospital service.

Bid $102,000

With utilization of the new hospital, the Veterans Hospital will no longer be used as a hospital facility. Construction of the new Ellenville Community Hospital submitted a lone bid of $102,000 accompanied by a five per cent purchase fee, for Veterans Memorial when the structure was put up for sale last fall.

One of the stipulations of the sale was that the structure not be used for hospital or medical or nursing purposes. A Congregation spokesman said that the institution planned to use the facility as a "complex community house" to accommodate for the Congregation's religious, social and athletic centers.

Meanwhile, there were no new developments on the tentative dedication ceremonies for the new Community Hospital. It was announced last fall that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey would be guest speaker for the ceremony.

Unable to Leave

However, Humphrey was unable to leave the nation's capitol due to the illness and recuperation from surgery of President Johnson. After that, the Vice President was sent by the President on a fact-finding tour of the world's trouble spots and has remained in Washington since his return.

Tomorrow morning's "moving day" was scheduled for the convenience of volunteers who might not be able to assist on other days of the week.

Human Blood Found in Car Of Slain Priest

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An analysis of stains found in the automobile of a slain Roman Catholic priest has shown they were human blood, police said Friday.

The automobile belonging to the Very Rev. Msgr. Francis J. O'Connor was parked about three-quarters of a mile from the point in Scatagunda Creek where his body was discovered Sunday.

A medical examiner ruled the priest had been murdered, perhaps by two assailants, early Sunday morning. Police worked on a theory that he might have surprised a pair of burglars who, detectives said, may have been dividing loot from a house entry.

The stains taken from the upholstery, inside door handles and dashboard of the car were all identified as blood, an FBI report said, but laboratory technicians were able only to pinpoint the type of blood in the upholstery.

They said it was type O, the same as that of Msgr. O'Connor. Friends said the priest, who served as editor-in-chief of "The Magnificat," weekly newspaper of the Buffalo Catholic Diocese, was fond of long walks.

A bundle of papers, which police said were reported stolen from a house during the weekend, were recovered Thursday from a point in the creek almost directly across from where the monsignor's body was found.

This led to the theory that he might have encountered the burglars, in the act of sorting out loot, and that they killed him.

Dr. John P. Hyland, an Erie County medical examiner, said the monsignor's death was caused by drowning, but that he also suffered a fractured larynx.

Hyland said he may have been choked and his head held under water, by more than one attacker.

A pair of shoes, identified Friday as belonging to the priest, were taken from the creek, but police said his wallet was still missing.

Firemen Quell Blaze At Chichester Plant

Fire of unknown origin caused minor damage Friday night to the Standard Wood Product building in the Village of Chichester.

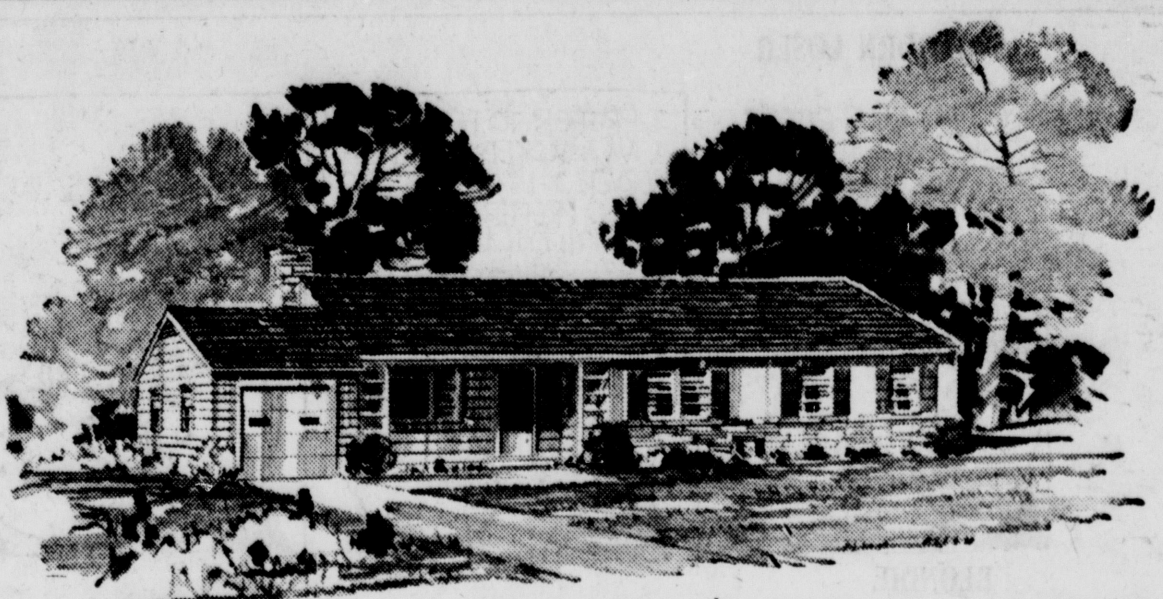

Phoenicia Fire Chief Mervale C. Jones told The Freeman that about 35 volunteers from three fire companies responded to the alarm about 7:30 p. m. He said that the fire was confined to a boiler room area located a short distance from the main factory. He said there was damage to the roof timbers and some minor internal damage.

Phoenicia, Shandaken-Allabon Hose Company and Ontario Hose from Mount Tremper, responded. Fire fighters returned to service about 9 p. m.

Housewives Aid IRS

Who is the financial secretary in your home? In many cases, it's your wife. That's why millions of American housewives are important to the Internal Revenue Service, pointed out Donald T. Hartley, District Director of Internal Revenue which services Northeastern New York State.

They keep complete and accurate tax records for the family. During this filing period, families with good records will find filing federal income tax returns much easier.

This Solid-Looking Ranch Type Is Superlative Home

By JACK McLENEY

When you look at the picture of "The Odette," Associated Architects' newest home plan, you see a solid-looking ranch type home that would fit beautifully in any kind of neighborhood—suburban as well as open country.

But when you go a step further

This is a kitchen designed to make the most efficient use of space. It connects directly to the dining room, of course, but there is also a snack bar that becomes a pass-through when the dining room is used. The bar provides a spot for snacks and even quick meals.

The remainder of the kitchen is arranged for the compact installation of the basic appliances, range and refrigerator, as well as cabinets and counters. Together they work to save the homemaker steps, and I wouldn't wonder that such a pleasant place will result in tastier meals.

The three bedrooms in "The Odette" range in size from 11½ by 13½ feet to 9 by 11½ feet, all spacious and all equipped with more than adequate closet space. Characteristically, you'll find a good deal of closet space throughout the house. For example, there is the coat closet just inside the front door and the linen closet, centrally accessible from the bedrooms and bath.

You'll want to examine the complete plans of "The Odette." I am sure, to decide if this is really the house for you. The plans are inexpensive and may be obtained by using the accompanying coupon.

When ordering plans be sure to say if you want them with basement or without. The living area of this modern home is 1,100 square feet, plus another 380 square feet for the porch and garage. Incidentally, be sure to notice that the spacious porch provides a sheltered access between these parts of the home.

No matter which popular building material you prefer, your plans show how any one of three may be used—wood siding, brick veneer or concrete block. With your plans you will receive a set of specifications to help guard your investment.

Hide Laundry

If laundry facilities must share space with the family room, design closet units to enclose the laundry equipment. Use stock pine louvered bifold doors on the closet enclosures. They open wide when equipment is in use but hide it away neatly afterward.

ther and examine the floor plan, you realize that this is indeed a superlative home, inside as well as out.

From the big covered porch to the comfort that is built right into the bedrooms, this home is sure to fit in with most, if not all, of what most families seek in a home.

The living room, 12 by 19 feet, is made more spacious in appearance because it adjoins the dining room. Windows back, side and front make this end of "The Odette" one of the best lighted homes I have seen. This arrangement also assures a well ventilated house.

A substantial decorator screen forms one wall of the dining room, and incorporates a most useful cabinet. This screen serves in another capacity by creating a foyer that shields the living and dining rooms from cold gusts of wind and drafts.

If you were to turn right on entering the house you'd see a hall leading to the kitchen and the sleeping quarters.

Wood Use Rises

Lumber usage per capita in America in 1964 was eight per cent higher than five years earlier, a government survey showed.

Cedar Superior

Western red cedar is ideal for house siding, because it is non-resinous and straight-grained, and contains natural oils that hold back deterioration.

America's Junior Miss Pageant—More Than Beauty Is Judged

By DON ROYAL

NEW YORK — During the past year, more than 50,000 high school senior girls have competed for an opportunity to become "America's Junior Miss"—and the full college scholarship which goes with that title.

Now, just 50 remain of the original 50,000. These bright, beautiful teenagers, one from every state in the Union, will share the limelight Saturday, March 26, when NBC-TV colorcasts America's Junior Miss Pageant, from Mobile, Ala.

SERVING AS HOST will be Hugh O'Brian, assisted by Dick Roman and Anita Bryant, and flanked by a distinguished panel of judges including authoress Fannie Hurst and John Vincent, president of the famed Pasadena Playhouse.

Don't confuse this with the Miss - Anything - Else Pageant. This is not a bathing beauty contest. In fact, the only time a girl wears a swimsuit here is if she's going in swimming.

The idea is simply to seek the best in American youth — physically, mentally and morally — and, when found, reward it.

The rewards are high. More than one quarter of a million dollars in college grants are dispensed, year round, in the nationwide "Junior Miss" program, sponsored by approximately one thousand Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters.

For the girl who finally wears the regal robe and diadem, there is a $10,000 scholarship, the same amount in merchandise and personal appearance fees, plus a chance to travel cross-country, meeting civic leaders, celebrities and thousands of other youngsters.

PATRICE GAUNDER, bright perky 18-year-old, currently in her freshman year at Marygrove College in Detroit, knows what this means. As the reigning "America's Junior Miss," it will be her bitter-sweet duty, on the telecast, to crown her successor.

"I cried when I won the title last year," she said, recalling the mostly happy scene on stage. "And I know I'll cry again. But in between, I haven't stopped enjoying myself."

Patrice's victory last March was a popular one. Her friends from the small town of St. Joseph, Mich., washed cars, swept out stores, baby-sat and collected soft drink bottles to raise the money to pay their way to Mobile. Then in a chartered bus, emblazoned with a banner reading, "The MichiGaunders," they traveled more than a thousand miles to serve as Patrice's private honor guard.

During her reign, the chestnut-haired miss has formed some definite opinions on how things stand between the adult world and the teenage realm.

"Adults should set a mature example for kids, but all so often, it's the other way around," she commented. "You see middle-aged women, on their way to the grocery store, in stretch pants and halters, their hair up in curlers. And grown men and women, imitating the latest teenage dance crazes until their backs give out."

"When the kids first started doing the twist, it was nice . . . kind of innocent. Then the adults took over and turned it into something wild."

By the same token, Patrice feels that teenage immorality can often be traced to materialistic parents.

"How can a youngster develop

PATRICE GAUNDER, America's Junior Miss, yields her crown to a new beauty in Mobile, Alabama, Saturday, March 26, when the Junior Miss Pageant occurs. Top award: a $10,000 college scholarship. NBC colorcasts the show.

PHYSICAL FITNESS is but one aptitude judged in selecting America's Junior Miss at Mobile, Alabama, Saturday, March 26. Colorcast of the show will be made by NBC-TV.

the right ideals when he hears his father boast how he fleeced a competitor in business or unloaded a shipment of shoddy merchandise on an unsuspecting client.

"Naturally, a youngster will feel that if cheating and lying is good enough for dad, it's good enough for him, too."

PATRICE EXCLUDES her parents from these comments, and adds that she's now grateful ("although I rebelled at times") for a strict upbringing. Her ambition, she adds, is to teach retarded children either in an American school or as a member of the Peace Corps.

"For so many years, backward kids have been treated as little better than animals," she said emotionally. "Now, educators are earning that these boys and girls can be turned into productive adults, leading almost normal lives. What a thrill it must be, the first time a teacher gets through to a retarded youngster."

Patrice's views admittedly make her unique amongst so-called "beauty queens." But she is no more unusual than the competition in which she won her crown.

The "America's Junior Miss Pageant" began in the 1920s as an adjunct to Mobile's most colorful event, a mammoth flower show called the Azalea Trail. Originally, it was limited to local girls. Then, one by one, neighboring states joined in. Finally, the daisies and daffodils were forgotten as it evolved into a national program to send deserving high school girls through college.

Because of this emphasis, the trappings of other pageants are conspicuously missing — the accustomed flotilla of movie talent scouts (or would-be talent scouts), the cheesecake photographers, and the mesmerized winners, exclaiming in chorus, "Hollywood, here we come . . ."

NOT THAT our girls aren't beautiful. They are," said E. B. Peebles Jr., a strapping ex-longshoreman who alternates between his duties as president of the pageant and running one of the nation's largest stevedoring firms.

"But a lovely face and a stunning figure aren't enough; it's just as important for a girl to be beautiful inside. That's what we believe, anyway."

In keeping with this viewpoint, the finalists spend a week in Mobile, where they are intensively judged on the basis of scholastic achievement, talent, mental agility, physical fitness and other attributes as well as sheer good looks.

In one session, they are challenged to think on their feet as judges rapid-fire questions at them. Another test probes their "sense of values and understanding of human relations."

How will all of this be shoe-horned into one hour of television time? Producer Ed Pierce gave the answer.

"We'll try to use every bit of showmanship and know-how at our command to set off the girls — like diamonds on black velvet."

"Several finalists, for example, are talented entertainers. The usual thing would be to send them out, one by one, and let them sink or swim. Instead, we're building a fullscale musical production number around them — professionally costumed, choreographed and staged — with our stars in support."

THAT INCLUDES Hugh O'Brian, who, when he isn't on horseback, is a surprisingly fine song-and-dance man."

Additionally, the producer plans to keep a camera crew grinding away day and night for a week before the telecast. "We'll cover the parties, the parades, the intensive question-and-answer sessions, the personal adventures, everything that happens to these girls."

"By the time 'America's Junior Miss' is chosen, we want the viewer at home to know how it feels to live through the most emotional, exciting, exhausting week any young girl can experience."

TV Questions & Answers

VITAL STATISTICS—Barbara Stanwyck of Big Valley is one of my favorite actresses. Tell us all about her.—S.B.J., Norfolk, Va.

Miss Stanwyck, who plays Victoria Barkley on the ABC-TV western series, is one of Hollywood's most durable stars. She was born Ruby Stevens in Brooklyn in 1907. Before she came to Hollywood in the 1920s, she had a personal success on Broadway in "Burlesque." Among her outstanding films are "Stella Dallas," "Sorry, Wrong Number" and "Titanic." She was nominated for an Oscar four times, but has never won one. Now silver-haired, the blue-eyed actress was once a brunette. She is 5 feet 10 and weighs 110 pounds. Miss Stanwyck, now single, was married to the late Frank Fay and Robert Taylor.

LIGHT AND DARK OF IT—Did Allison MacKenzie darken her hair after that "brutal" haircut or are my bifocals off?—Mary Alphonso, Minneapolis, Minn.

No. Perhaps Mia Farrow's roots are showing.

VIRGINIAN COMPLAINTS—John Dehner is spoiling The Virginian. He looks more like a villain and a nasty killer than the head of a ranch.—H.E.B., San Antonio, Tex.

As Morgan Starr, he's supposed to be tough.

GLEASON'S HOME LIFE—Why doesn't Jackie Gleason ever talk about his personal life? Doesn't he have a family?—Mrs. F. M. Terry, Slayton, Minn.

Gleason and his wife, the former Genevieve Halford, whom he married in 1936, have been sep-

TV Scout Reports

A national magazine rejected a piece a writer did on David Janssen with a note that said, in essence, "One of you is very boring."

In Rome, Lorne Greene, Bonanza's Big Daddy, is greeted by cab-drivers and hellhops as "Signor Bonanza." It has a nice Italian sound to it at that, doesn't it?

Yes, Mother, the star of My Mother, the Car, has a stand-in. In show business it is ever thus.

The car, by the way, is owned by the show's prop man, Kaye Trapp, who makes a nice piece of change on the antique auto's rental.

Jim Backus says being typed as a wealthy man, as he has always been and is now in Gilligan's Island, has decided drawbacks. "Unless I tip a dollar at a parking lot," he says, "I'm a cheapskate."

Tom Lester, who is a regular on Green Acres on CBS-TV, visited his home town of Jackson Miss., during a break in filming the series and discovered that it is probably the only place in the world where the same episode can be seen three times in one week.

"It was pure heaven," he said. "We saw the show at the regular time from Meridian, then at 10 o'clock we saw a repeat from Mobile, and two days later we saw it again on our Jackson station."

STATION BREAK

"He started to say something like 'Smile, you're on...' and then I ate him!"

arated for a number of years. They are parents of two girls—Geraldine and Linda. And have three grandchildren.

QUICK STARTERS—Did Peter Breck and Lee Majors of The Big Valley ever act before their current series?—M.R.H., Peoria, Ill.

Peter has had an extensive career as a performer. In his youth he was a jazz singer and night club emcee. After studying drama at the University of Houston, he played leads in 140 plays in playhouses in 36 states. Next came film roles (he has appeared in five films, including "I Want to Live" and "Lad, A Dog") and roles on television. For two years, Peter played the lead on Black Saddle, Big Valley is Lee's first acting assignment. Previously, he was a Los Angeles recreation director.

BATMOBILE FACTS—Why, if the Batmobile is propelled by a jet engine, do the tires spin on the pavement when the car starts on a straight, dry road?—R. M. Owen, Portland, Ore.

The Batmobile isn't jet-propelled, although it's billed as atomic-powered. The car that plays the Batmobile was designed by George Barris and has a 500-horsepower racing engine. Top speed is 150 m.p.h. It's 225 inches long and 48 inches wide and weighs 5,500 pounds. The bubble top is made of plexiglass. The car's body is hand-crafted steel.

DOUBLE LOSERS—Is Shindig coming back on? I hope it does because Hullabaloo stinks!—Steve Maichio, St. Paul, Minn.

There is no hope of Shindig returning. There is also no hope for Hullabaloo. The NBC-TV pop music series is going off the air in April.

REGULAR FELLOW—Is Danny Thomas coming back on the air in a regular series? Where may I write him?—Mrs. Sam Davis, Elsinore, Calif.

Danny has no plans to be on TV every week again. He much prefers to stay with his infrequent specials. Write him at NBC-TV, Burbank, Calif.

Josefberg Grateful

Milt Josefberg, the head writer of The Lucy Show, is grateful people care, but he wishes they wouldn't send him ideas for episodes. "Once the bottom on a can of shaving cream stuck," he said, "and the soap fizzed all over the bathroom. It gave me an idea for a TV script. Then I got a letter from a woman who had a similar experience with a can of whipped cream. Now I can't use the idea, because she would certainly think I stole it from her."

Seat for Lassie

Rudd Weatherwax, who trains Lassie, recently went on a vacation—the first he has spent away from his collie.

On the plane he was seated next to a young lady passenger, who was in the seat Lassie would normally be occupying. Midway in the trip, he got up to get a magazine and automatically said, "Lassie, stay." When he returned to his seat, the young lady had changed seats and was sitting next to an elderly minister.

OF MEN AND FREEDOM presents "The Reformation," a beautifully photographed study of the 16th century when men tried to reform the Catholic Church and wound up shattering its unity. Focus is on Martin Luther, some of whose followers used his words as excuses for revolution and an orgy of image-breaking throughout Germany; John of Leyden, the Anabaptist who believed in a literal interpretation of the Bible; John Calvin and his Doctrine of Predestination; and Ignatius of Loyola, who founded the Jesuits and who set out to win back people lost to the Church. Filmed in Germany (including Wittenberg in East Germany) France, Spain and Switzerland, this is more a study of times and events than it is a religious tract. 6:30-7:30 (NBC) (COLOR) Sunday.

Mazurki Awaits His First Kiss

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—He can't argue the fact that he looks like an overstuffed gorilla, all 6 feet 5 inches and 245 pounds of him.

But what Hollywood doesn't realize is that "Iron Mike" Mazurki has a heart. And he wants to show it in front of the cameras.

The nose has been broken 13 times by professional wrestlers, and football players. The forehead is flat, the eyebrows are thick and a cauliflower ear sprouts from one side of his immense head.

But what the heck.

Mike knows he's no Tony Curtis or Gary Grant. But his heart is as big as Cary's, and flutters just as much as Tony's when he sees a beautiful doll.

So for the sake of realism, something that is stressed on television these days, why can't some imaginative producer cast Mike as a romantic lead?

After 25 years of acting in more than 300 TV shows and 160 movies, Mike says he's ready for his first film kiss.

"The most frustrating thing as a man and as an actor is that I've worked with some of the most attractive women in this business," sighed Mike.

"But I was the bad guy. I either beat up their boy friends or bumped them off. Or I was the invincible Union Army sergeant who fought off the Indians while the real hero got all the lovin'."

On the other hand, movie and TV heroes are forever knocking off Mike. It even happens in the Forsythe show. Forsythe lands a haymaker to Mike's jaw.

"It's against the law of gravity," Mike complained. "I outweigh John by 70 pounds."

"IRON MIKE" MAZURKI

The acting bit came to Mike when he was a professional wrestler billed as "Iron Mike" Mazurki. The year was 1941, and he doubled as a wrestler in the movie "Shanghai Gesture."

Since then he has always played heavies.

"No kidding," recalled Mike, "I wasn't a bad looking guy in those days. I had nice, wavy hair."

But 4,000 wrestling matches later Mike had been "molded" into the perfect heavy.

But heavies have won the girl now and then.

Not Mike, however.

"And look," he said, "I still have wavy hair."

But it's the wavy nose and wavy ears that keep him from where the girls are.

Yanofsky Named Press Director

The appointment of Mari Yanofsky as director of Press Information for "ABC Stage '66," the ABC-TV project devoted to weekly presentation of extraordinary creative forms and artists which will premiere this fall, was announced today by Edward Bleier, ABC vice president in charge of public relations and planning, broadcast division.

Miss Yanofsky will coordinate all publicity and public information activities of "ABC Stage '66," in addition to her present duties as manager of Magazine Publicity for ABC Press Information.

Hubbell Robinson, celebrated television producer and creator, is the executive in charge of "ABC Stage '66."

Miss Yanofsky, lists impressive credits in both broadcasting, writing, publicity and production. She was associate producer of ABC News' production of "The Soviet Woman" in 1963.

Modest Gifts

Zero Mostel and Burgess Meredith are great friends, and they exchange Christmas gifts you wouldn't believe. Last year, Zero sent Buzz a check for $10,000.

"We talked it over and decided to keep our gifts modest," Zero said.

What did Meredith send Mostel? A check for $10,000.

Novel Phone

Dawson was talking about one comic star of a weekly TV series, not his, and described him like this: "The telephone in his dressing room doesn't ring. It applauds. There are no chairs in the room. Just one thorne."

Another Ringo In the Making? Not Really

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — Teen-age girls are screaming "Yah, yah, yah" when they spot Richard Dawson. They are also flooding Dawson with mash notes in which they compare him to David McCallum and Ringo Starr.

"It's frightening when you are 31," Dawson said on the set of Hogan's Heroes in which he plays British Airman Newkirk with a Liverpool-style haircut and a Cockney accent.

But about being compared to McCallum and Ringo as a teen-age heart throb, he says:

"I don't know whether that's better than being a last year's Robert Vaughn or not. But I'm really not trying to be another Ringo or another anything."

"I had my hair cut this way for Sybil Burton's wedding. I was a bridesmaid," he kidded. "Seriously, we deliberately switched Newkirk's accent from Liverpool to Cockney to avoid comparison with the Beatles."

RICHARD DAWSON

Everybody seems to be from Liverpool these days. You know something, I do dialects and I don't even understand some of those characters."

Laughs are the reason for London-born Richard Dawson's presence in the cast of Hogan's Heroes. He is a comedian by trade who has worked in night clubs and made guest appearances on TV shows. But until Hogan's Heroes came along this season, most people had never heard of Richard Dawson. Those who did thought of him as the husband of Diana Dors, the blonde British glamor queen.

Now some people in Hollywood say they are separated.

This he denies, saying Diana is just doing a play in London and that she will eventually return to the Dawson home and brood (two young sons) in Beverly Hills.

Part of Dawson's night club act includes a bit about Boris Karloff showing up on Madison Ave. with an idea for a Dr. Frankenstein series and being turned down "because we've had too many doctor series."

Even funnier, though, is a story he tells about his first appearance on stage with a solo comedy act. Until then he had worked as a bit player on the British stage, seldom earning more than $8.40 a week. After deciding to become a comedian, he wrote a letter to a theater manager saying he was a Canadian comic on vacation in England and would like to perform.

When his offer was accepted he memorized a few jokes and went to the theater where they asked him if he wanted a rising mike.

"I said I did, although I didn't know what they were talking about. When I got on stage and the mike rose out of the floor, I didn't even see it. All I knew was that something was climbing up inside my pants leg and by the time it reached my knees, I was really fighting the thing. The audience thought it was part of the act, but the manager knew better. He fired me after one performance."

Two-Year Works

Jazz stylists Jackie and Ray have taped an appearance on The Andy Williams Show, set for later this month. Their guest shot represents two years' work

GUY MARKS plays three roles on The John Forsythe Show over NBC-TV in color Monday (March 21) 8-8:30. With its new format, the show has John, the major, and Guy Marks, the sergeant, away from their girls school and in manly London, coping with spies on secret Air Force business. It's standard confusion comedy, brittle and outrageous. Funniest bit involves Marks posing as two notorious agents, trying to knock out Marks as the sergeant. The mix-up is obvious. (COLOR)

Harrison's Career Soars Pop Singer on Way to Top

By BILL BYERS

NEW YORK—So, there was Noel Harrison on Hullabaloo with "Baby Blue," a folksy pop song which the young man with the clear blue eyes, and San Juan tan sang and talked his way through.

If the old man could do it in "My Fair Lady" why couldn't he?

But there is considerable difference between the Harrisons—Noel and Papa Rex.

Noel, 31, father of four (including one daughter by his wife's first marriage) is definitely of this generation: A very cool, collected Mod in turtle neck sweaters and a haircut that is more Beatle than Caesar.

Strongly independent, the first-born son of Rex Harrison, Noel came to this country on his own terms.

After a year-and-a-half of singing the news on London's version of the Tonight Show, and more years than he cares to remember spent wandering around Europe entertaining in dingy, beatnik type bistros, he decided it was time "to give America a go."

"I came here because I thought I could make a better living for my family," he says. "And I have been right."

Afraid in Dark

Richard Dawson, who plays Newkirk the English member of Hogan's Heroes, is married to Diana Dors, and they have two sons, Mark, 5, and Gary, 3.

Dawson told TV Scout that Mark, until recently, had been afraid of the dark.

"We were walking into a dark room in the house, and he had me by the hand. Then suddenly he said to me, 'Daddy, I just figured out that I don't have to be afraid of the dark, because it's only Jesus drawing the shades.'"

Dragnet on Way

It's possible that Dragnet, one of the early TV sensations (remember how "Just the facts, ma'am" caught on?), might return as a series.

Right now, Dragnet-66, with Jack Webb, is filming as a two-hour movie for TV. It's being released in Europe as a movie, and no one close to it is precluding the possibility of another series.

for the show's writer, Harry Crane. That's how long he has been trying to get them on.

Andy was so pleased with their inventive jazz they will undoubtedly be back before another two go by.

NOEL HARRISON

After his debut at a small New York night club, the Living Room, two years ago, Noel has seldom been out of work.

There have been television guest spots, club dates in far-out places like San Juan, and the opportunity to cut records. "Baby Blue" is his first pop tune, and it looks as if it may be a hit.

This spring, Noel will begin an extensive concert hall and college tour with the Beachboys.

Although he has the fine chiseled features of Rex Harrison, he has no plans of following in his father's suave footsteps. Of course, he has hopes of someday conquering Broadway, too. But it's doubtful if it'll be in a musical based on a Shaw play.

A key to Noel's future was evident the other night when Gary Lewis introduced him on Hullabaloo:

"Now here's George Harrison's father—Noel."

It made the teen-aged girls in the audience scream with delight.

Adam West Star in Batman Says, No Overnight Success

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
(Second of Two Parts)

HOLLYWOOD — Not many people outside of Hollywood knew the name Adam West before he was introduced as Batman on home screens early this January.

The ones who did could have held their fan club meeting in a telephone booth.

But as usual the laugh is on the public.

Even Adam is getting a kick out of the Batman phenomenon.

"It all makes me sound like an overnight success," he says, "but I spent eight years in Hollywood before this show and another seven years in radio TV and on the stage." Add them up and you see it took Adam 15 years to become an "overnight success."

In those eight years in Hollywood he:

Made his TV debut in Colt 45 and was under contract to Warner Bros. for a year during which he played roles in 77 Sunset Strip, Sugarfoot, Cheyenne, Lawman, Maverick and others.

Played a role in the movie, "The Young Philadelphians."

Worked in other telefilms such as Perry Mason, Bonanza, Alcoa Theater, Rifleman.

Played the romantic young Sgt. Steve Nelson on Robert Taylor's Detectives series when it became an hour show. He worked with Chuck Connors in the movie "Geronimo." He was with Sandra Dee in "Tammy and the Doctor," then did a role in "Soldiers in the Rain" several Petticoat Junction shows, plus Outer Limits, Bewitched and The Virginian.

Last fall he starred in the

movie "The Inexorable Four," a western filmed in Italy. The offer to star in Batman came with another from Italy to star in four more movies there. He accepted Batman.

The gamble paid off for 32-year-old Adam West, who was born on a ranch near Walla Walla, Wash., graduated from Whitman College in Oregon, served his two years in the army and then spent four years as a director and performer on a daily radio and TV show for CBS in Hawaii. During this time there was a marriage, but now he's a bachelor.

"I figured this series would either be the greatest or the biggest bust of them all," he says.

Will it all last? The bat-ratings will tell.

Stars Planning Vacation Time, To Some Degree

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —It's hiatus time in Hollywood, that happy vacation period when television stars earn the loot their fame can bring or else rest up for the rigors of next season.

Seasons Near Windup

Within the next few weeks, virtually all the filmed series will finish up their 1965-66 seasons. Those that have been renewed will take a breather—as little as three weeks for hour shows or as much as three months for the half-hours.

Here's how some of the stars will spend their hiatuses:

The two U.N.C.L.E. agents will be making movies in Italy: Robert Vaughn in "The Venetian Affair" and David McCallum in "Three Bites of the Apple."

Jim Nabors of "Gomer Pyle" and pal Lee Majors of "Big Valley" plan three weeks in Jamaica together. Then Jim returns to star at Harrah's, Lake Tahoe. Lee will undergo surgery to correct a nose broken accidentally by Linda Evans in a "Big Valley" scene.

Robert Conrad, "Wild, Wild West," has been booked for a visit to Japan, where he is doubly popular. His CBS show and "Hawaiian Eye" are both playing on Japanese television.

Picking up the night club loot are Don Adams, "Get Smart," and Mike Landon, "Bonanza." Mike's fellow Cartwrights will be visiting Europe—Loren Greene on a tour with his wife, Dan Blocker to see his twin daughters who attend school in Greece.

Other Movie Makers

Other movie makers: The "Batman" bunch, who will be making a feature about the masked marvel; David Janssen, "The Fugitive," in Paramount's "The Warning Shot"; Dean Martin in another Matt Helm epic.

Three of the "Laredo" boys—Phil Carey, Bill Smith and Peter Brown—have organized an act to play the Louisiana and other state fairs. Ken Curtis and Millburn Stone of "Gunsmoke" will be on the rodeo circuit, as will Peter Breck of "Big Valley."

The theater is calling Eddie Albert, "Green Acres," who will play "Music Man" in West Covina, Calif., and St. Louis; and Forrest Tucker, who will appear in "Never Too Late" in Chicago.

Some Will Just Rest

Some folks are simply going to vacation. Elizabeth Montgomery "Bewitched," plans to visit her famous father Robert Montgomery in the East. Likewise Efrem Zimbalist Jr., "The FBI," who will see the senior Zimbalist in Philadelphia. And Werner Klemperer, "Hogan's Heroes," is going to Europe to visit his father, conductor Otto Klemperer.

No fun for Melody Patterson of "F Troop." She's only 16 and has to stay home and go to school.

SHEREE NORTH

Sheree Thinks She May Be Victim of Blacklist

By DICK KLEINER

Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Sheree North brings up a word which Hollywood hasn't heard for a while—blacklist. And she thinks she is the victim of it.

Her troubles, she says, started when she began to worry about nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

"I'm a mother," Sheree North says, "and I read (Linus) Pauling's statistics about how many children would be born maimed, and I had to do something."

She marched with the pickets, protesting atmospheric testing. Generally, she says, she was unrecognized as she picketed, which is the way she wanted it. She says she was protesting as a private citizen, not as an actress.

But there were times she was recognized, times when her picture, carrying her placard, appeared in the paper.

"Somehow," she says, "many people have the idea that anybody who carries a placard in a protest march is a Communist."

HER NEXT ACTIVITY was in connection with a play, "The Dutchman," in which she appeared. This drama, written by LeRoi Jones, caused a controversy in Los Angeles, mainly because the local newspapers refused to run advertisements for it and its companion piece, "The Toilet."

Sheree North was one of many who were active in a loud campaign against this advertising ban. The issue, they claimed, was freedom of the press. But the critics of "The Dutchman" called it communistic. Again, she was tarred by that brush.

Since those two events, Sheree North has found parts are hard to come by. She has had four television roles in the period since "The Dutchman" closed, and she says normally she should expect more than twice that many.

She says she has been called to studios for parts, but invariably the subject of the protest march or the play is brought up and she is bid goodbye. Her agent has cautioned her not to talk politics. She says she doesn't bring it up, but the producer or the director or the writer does.

She doesn't think there is an organized kind of blacklist, such as flourished here before. But the unorganized one, she is finding, is just as annoying and just as effective.

However, she doesn't regret her two positive stands. She feels that the atomic testing protests were helpful.

SHEREE NORTH, the demonstrator, is a long way from Sheree North, the sex bomb. And she's delighted with the change.

"That was a crummy feeling, the way things used to be," she says. "That feeling that the only reason they want you is because of the way you look, that's really crummy."

"I took no pride in anything I did. So I just decided to quit that kind of thing, and I did."

Now she has pride in her work—on and off the screen or stage—and all would be well, if they'd only let her work more.

Character Sketches Listed On 'Wars of Roses' Company

(Sidelights on some of the leading members of the Royal Shakespeare Company, to be seen in "The Wars of the Roses," WNEW-TV.)

"The Wars of the Roses," based on Shakespeare's history plays, "Henry VI" Parts I, II and III, and "Richard III," relates the drama of one of the most devastating periods of English history, when the Houses of Lancaster and York ripped England in half in search of power. Filmed for television by the BBC, "The Wars of the Roses" was originally produced by the Royal Shakespeare Company in Stratford-on-Avon. The program is screened in three parts: Part I "Henry VI"; Part II, "Edward IV"; and Part III, "Richard III" on Sunday, March 27, at 8:00-11:30 p. m., over WNEW-TV in New York and WTTG-TV in Washington, D. C.

Roy Dotrice, who plays the title role of Edward IV in Part II of the trilogy, found himself with a double first-night problem last year—he didn't know whether to see his eighteen-year-old daughter, Michele, open in the Royal Shakespeare Company production of "The Merry Wives of Windsor," or his nine-year-old daughter Karen, make her motion picture debut in a starring role in Walt Disney's "Mary Poppins."

Dame Peggy Ashcroft, who appears in all three parts of "The Wars of the Roses" as Margaret of Anjou, later the wife of Henry VI—aging from a young girl to an old woman—appeared in the first Shakespearean plays ever televised by the BBC in 1938.

Brewster Mason, like his TV lawyer namesake, Perry, takes an active interest in law. Mason, cast in "The Wars of the Roses" as the Earl of Warwick, has made several trips to the U. S. Supreme Court in Washington to talk over the differences between Federal and State law with Justice William O. Douglas.

Paul Hardwick, who plays the Duke of Gloucester in Part I of the trilogy, started his stage career as a prisoner in a German P.O.W. camp during World War II. He ran the camp theatre as a cover for tunnelling operations: while rehearsals were held, men were digging their way to freedom.

Ian Holm, who plays the title role of Richard II in Part III, has been with the Royal Shakespeare Company for eleven years. Last season he played five lead parts, and commented "Somebody with a statistical mind reckoned I'd had to learn 3,611 lines."

Donald Sinden, who plays the Duke of York, is a self-confessed supporter of lost causes. He has: a) started a Museum of the Theatre; b) joined organizations which actively advocate the preservation of London's old buildings; c) become a keen ecclesiologist, driving hundreds of miles just to look at old English parish churches.

David Warner, who plays the lead role of King Henry VI in "The Wars of the Roses," received critical acclaim for his performance of this role after only two years of drama school. He actually began his theatrical career while working in a department store and performing in local amateur theatrical productions by night.

"The Wars of the Roses" is presented on WNEW-TV and WTTG-TV by Eastern Airlines, represented by Young & Rubicam, Inc. WNEW-TV and WTTG-TV are stations of Metropolitan Broadcasting Television, a division of Metromedia, Inc.

Goulets Expect

The production chart for the month of April for the Blue Light company is arranged to give Robert Goulet a day off on a second's notice. Sometime in April he will become a father for the second time. He is married to Carol Lawrence, and they have a 15-month-old son.

Carlson Stars
In CBS Daktari
March 22, 29

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — "Teleplay by Richard Carlson."

The words have been in the credits of many telefilms and will appear again on the first two-part episode of CBS-TV's Daktari set for March 22 and 29.

"The movie star?" you may have wondered.

Yes, the same Richard Carlson.

But writing is not new to him.

He has been mixing make-up with a pencil since he wrote his own screen test and won a role as Janet Gaynor's romantic leading man. That was long before TV and he's still writing. And also acting. Maybe you remember his early TV series, I Led Three Lives.

Well, as a writer, actor Carlson has always led two lives.

When he was asked to do this Daktari double header he was busy working as an actor in a segment of the Perry Mason show. "But I will be available in five days," said Carlson, eager to accept the writing assignment.

This was agreeable to the show's producer Leonard Kaufman, who told him: "It will take that long for the network to make plot suggestions on the basic idea."

Carlson, who also contributes to the slick magazines and who once wrote a Broadway play, is frank about why he doesn't concentrate on writing, which he says he prefers to acting.

Acting is so much more lucrative, he says.

His scripting for the Daktari

series actually is a reunion for Carlson and the show's executive producer, Ivan Tors. Today Tors is a big success with Daktari and the Flipper series and a slate of M&M movies.

But when they first met 10 years ago Tors needed money to finance a movie idea and won bank support only after Carlson agreed to star in the film, Carlson was so impressed with Tors' talents and further ideas that they continued their association through a series of four movies and Tors' first successful TV series, Science Fiction Theater.

The jungle background of Daktari and its two animal stars, Clarence the cross-eyed lion and Judy the chimp, appeal to Carlson's writing flair. He's now working on two more shows and he says:

"I'm having a ball. I feel like Kipling writing those jungle books. Judy and Clarence are Superman and Batman. They can do anything."

W-Ten Offers Religious Profile

The Most Reverend Edward F. Maginn, Apostolic Administrator of the Albany Roman Catholic Diocese, will appear in a candid, unrehearsed interview on "The Religious Revolution," a W-Ten News Special, Tuesday, March 22, 10-10:30 p. m.

Bishop Maginn will be interviewed by a distinguished panel that will include Dr. Caryle Adams, Religion Editor of the Albany Times Union, Walter Hawver, Manager of News Operations for WTEN, and Bruce Williamson and Ted Baughn, WTEN Newscasters.

Bishop Maginn, who attended all four sessions of the Vatican Council, will be questioned on the implications of the Council for present and future generations, and on the effects of the ecumenical movement on the church in the world today.

Dr. Adams, Stated Clerk of the Presbytery of Albany and Minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Rensselaer, attended all three Vatican Council sessions presided over by Pope Paul VI. A journalistic observer at the Council sessions, he was commissioned by the Robert B. Hensley Foundation, a Roman Catholic organization, to write a book, The Ecumenical Sacrifice, which is now nearing completion.

"The Religious Revolution" will be the third in a series of WTEN Profile Specials produced by the Channel 10 News and Public Affairs Department to focus attention on major news events which affect the interest and concern of residents of the great Northeast.

Gloria De Haven, who is in As the World Turns, made her motion picture debut when she was 9 years old. She visited the set of "Modern Times," in which her father, Carter De Haven, was working with Charlie Chaplin. She was offered a walk-on, and that was her start as an actress.

Redford Finds
'Good Things'
With Natalie Wood

By BILL BYERS

NEW YORK — "Color Robert Redford red-headed and red hot . . . and ready to sweep the nation as a star symbol of sex appeal and talent in 1966 . . ."

This is the kind of publicity Paramount Pictures is turning out these days on a 27-year-old actor who was told early in his career by the late Charles Laughton "to follow his instincts."

Redford's instincts, he says, tell him "to always do good things."

But the actor, remembered for his vivid performances on television (especially on The Defenders) and on Broadway

ROBERT REDFORD

("Barefoot in the Park"), has found Hollywood's idea of "good things" is to play opposite Natalie Wood a lot.

Natalie is his co-star in two of the three films he had made for Paramount: "This Property Is Condemned" and "Inside Daisy Clover." The other is "The Chase," a Columbia release in which he plays an escaped convict, pursued by Jane Fonda, a flock of bloodhounds and what seems most of Texas.

All of this has made Redford a tired young man, indeed. He and his wife, Lola, and their two youngsters, Shauna, 4, and Jamie, 3, are now set for a six-month holiday on the Greek Islands. When they return in September, he will star in the film version of "Barefoot in the Park."

It doesn't look as if he will return to television, although he has hopes of getting back on Broadway some day.

Redford has been offered several television series, but he said he has turned them all down.

"I don't have the temperament to last week-after-week in the same role. Although I love the spontaneity that you sometimes find in television you are constantly aware that it is more of a business than an art," he said. "Too many people are always calling the shots."

Meanwhile, he is content to keep on making love scenes with Natalie Wood, convinced that the "good things" for him are in films.

BILL DANA

ED PIERCE

Dana Writes 'New' Alice, Pierce Is Back Producing

By JOAN CROSBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Bill Dana ran his hand over the back of his long, wavy hair and said he had been so busy he hadn't had time to get a haircut.

"I got a look at my hair in the mirror, and it gave me an idea for a cartoon. A man with long wavy hair is preening before a mirror, while a girl watches, looking worried. He is saying, 'Don't worry, dear, I'll never leave you for me.'"

Dana, who has been popping up all over television as a guest lately, will next be represented as author of an ABC-TV animated color special, set for March 30, called "Alice in Wonderland or What's a Nice Kid Like You Doing in a Place Like This."

Dana, as Jose Jimenez, also will supply the voice of the White Knight.

"This is a contemporary Alice," Bill said, "and I want to emphasize that. I know somebody has got to say, 'What has he done to Lewis Carroll?' Well, I didn't want to write an adaptation, but I did want to write a fantasy about a contemporary Alice."

"Carroll's Alice is not a children's story, you know. It is a very inside piece of social satire with jokes that were only understood by Oxford dons. My Alice is a little girl who has read the book. She falls down and bumps her head and dreams that her dog jumps into the TV set and she follows."

In the set she meets, among others, a very hip Cheshire Cat, with the voice supplied by Sammy Davis Jr. On meeting Alice's dog, Fluff, he says, "There's fluff inside a pillow and fluff outside a willow." Alice asks, "Willow?" and the Cat answers, "A pussywillow. There's pussywillow galore around here."

"So you see," Bill says, "we have changed the story."

While Dana continues to perform, he says he prefers other aspects of show business, "I would rather write, produce, direct—and dance, as long as I can lead."

Ed Pierce has got to be the only television producer who began his career as half of a professional dance team, worked his way up to staff producer at NBC, then quit to breed horses.

"It was a crazy thing, I know," he said, "but I had been breeding them anyway. I was around the barns most of the time, so I decided to devote full time to the business."

Pierce roamed the Kentucky countryside, breeding horses, which he boarded on farms there, for nearly two years. "It was something I always wanted to do. Now I have done it, and I'll never do it again."

Now Pierce, a New Yorker who looks every bit the conservative businessman, is back producing. He will be represented by two shows in the next few weeks. On March 26, he will produce America's Junior Miss, an NBC-TV color special, and on April 7 also on NBC-TV in color, he'll have Highlights of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus.

Most of Ed's shows are done on location. He has also produced several segments for the American Sportsman series, including Craig Stevens' tiger hunt in India.

Albert Speaks On 'Acres' Success

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — There's a special way to describe this season's exchange of cast members between the television shows Green Acres and Petticoat Junction.

"We call it the corn exchange," Eddie Albert grinned.

Both shows, you see, have the reputation of being strictly off-the-cob, out-of-the-popper golden bantam. But do not try to debate the subject with Eddie.

The star of CBS-TV's Green Acres, pointing to the show's top 10 popularity all season, will talk you down. He argues:

"I don't think we are corny at all. Really, the shows are about as funny as you want to get. That telephone up on a pole, for instance, is real surrealist humor. There is a lot more corn on shows they call sophisticated."

Would he like to name them? "I would not, I've appeared on them."

Eddie Albert had the day off, something that doesn't happen often to stars of TV series, but he wasn't impressed, and he wasn't sleeping in.

In his first season on what

Peter Graves Career Zooms To New Heights

HOLLYWOOD — "I once thought an actor could control his own destiny. But lately I've changed my mind and become fatalistic."

Peter Graves said the words with a smile.

The smile was appropriate for the one-time star of the long-running (six years) children's television series, Fury.

Becoming fatalistic had lowered his blood pressure and zoomed his career to the point where maybe there should be three Peter Graves. Or possibly four.

A forthcoming Gunsmoke episode will carry the credit, "Directed by Peter Graves." Starting in April on ABC-TV he will be seen as the co-star of Court Martial, a series filmed in England.

He is the co-star, with Richard Egan, of another series, Stranded, which is slated for home screens next season. He had just finished a role in Laredo with only a day off before starting another one in Branded.

He recently co-starred in the movie "A Rage to Live" and next month he joins another movie to co-star with Dean Martin. His Fury series is in reruns (now titled Black Stallion) along with another series titled Whiplash which he made in Australia.

In other words the brother of Jim Arness is the "hottest" actor in Hollywood these days. And really, he says, everything started happening to him once he stopped trying to control his own destiny.

"After six years of Fury," he explains, "I appeared in a number of pilot TV films for independent companies which, if sold, would have given me control of both my life and my career. But no one of them sold and I realized I had become an out of sight, out of mind actor. So I relaxed and everything started happening."

He'd like to do more directing. He should. After guiding Gunsmoke, he received this tribute from Milburn Stone, who plays Doc: "One of the finest directors we've had on the show."

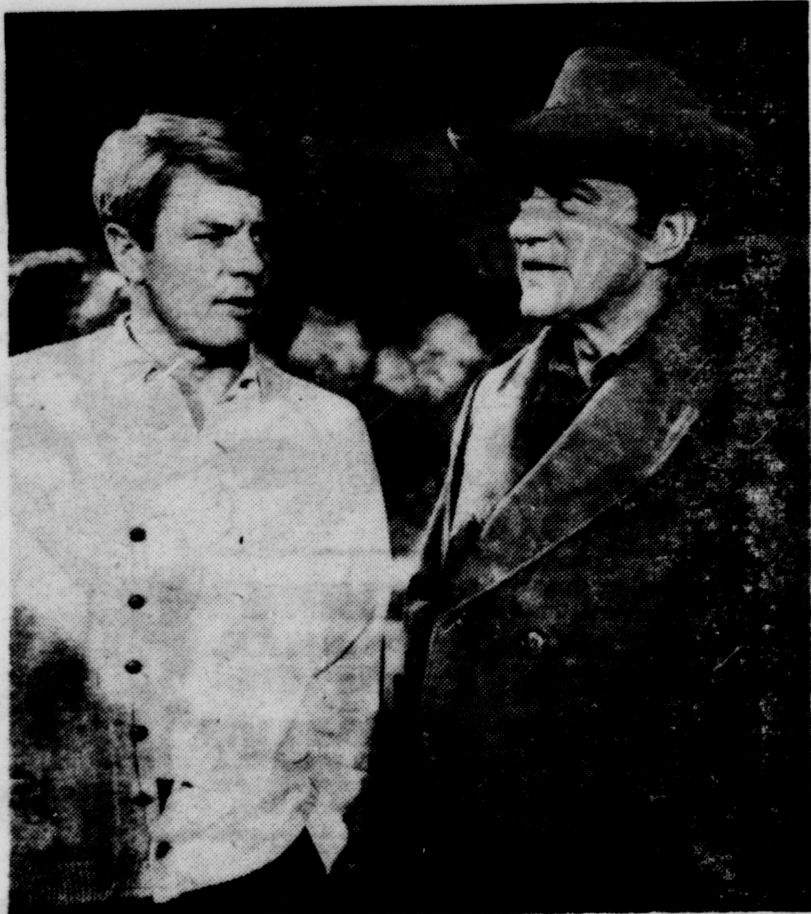

What may happen to Graves now he is leaving to fate.

If Court Martial is a hit, only 26 shows are on film—other episodes will be ordered by ABC. This means that if Stranded is sold the actor will have two starring series on the air this fall.

"I don't know exactly what will happen," he says, "but I suspect Court Martial will have the option and they will write me out of Stranded."

The latter is about a huge airliner, with 138 people aboard, forced down in a jungle valley from which there is no escape. Sort of a serious Gilligan's Island.

Maybe they could star 137 of those people in 137 different episodes and then spring Peter Graves away from Court Martial for the 138th show.

PETER GRAVES WITH JAMES ARNESS

Moving Day

Gary Collins, who is so good in The Wackiest Ship in the Army, tells this story on himself.

Just before the series made its debut last fall, NBC asked Gary if he could pose for the cover of a national magazine the following Saturday. "Sorry," he said "We're moving Saturday. It's the only day I can borrow my brother-in-law's truck."

As the star of a TV show, Gary could afford a better home, but the budget couldn't be stretched to include professional movers.

Schwartz Creation

Sherwood Schwartz, who created Gilligan's Island, has another series in the works. See if it sounds familiar! It's about astronauts "capsule-wrecked" on a planet inhabited by a lot of goofy people.

Cyd Charisse Will Perform On Oscar Show

Cyd Charisse will be featured in an unusual and exciting production number on the 38th Annual Awards Show of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to be presented on the ABC-TV Network—for the first time in color—and broadcast by the ABC Radio Network Monday, April 18 (10 p. m., to conclusion, EST), Joe Pasternak, producer of the program, announced today.

Cyd will be seen in a special salute to screen musicals and choreographers, whose unique artistry and achievements have given the dance new horizons on film. The number will be created and staged by Eugene Loring and will be one of the highlights of the glittering, star-studded show. It will mark Miss Charisse's sixth appearance on the "Oscar" program but her first appearance as a performer. She was a presenter in each of her five previous appearances.

She joins a growing roster of stars which already includes Julie Andrews, Warren Beatty, James Garner, George Hamilton, Rex Harrison, Bob Hope, Lila Kedrova, Jack Lemmon, Dorothy Malone, Shirley MacLaine, Yvette Mimieux, Paul Newman, Gregory Peck, Debbie Reynolds, Omar Sharif, Lana Turner, Natalie Wood and Joanne Woodward.

This year's show, with Hope as emcee and originating from the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, will also be aired worldwide through the facilities of the Armed Forces Radio and Television Service.
